Planes Again Attack Tokyo

Yanks Invade Iwo, Corregidor

By WILLIAM F. TYREE
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ADMIRAL NIMITZ'S HEADQUARTERS, GUAM, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—Radio Tokyo reported that American invasion forces stormed ashore on Iwo Island, only 750 miles south of Tokyo, and historic Corregidor today while carrier planes still were blasting the smoking Japanese capital itself for the second straight day.

Only the carrier-based raids on Tokyo and a continuing air-naval bombardment of Iwo were confirmed by official American sources, but the Japanese radio told of these developments along a 2,400-mile arc from Tokyo to Manila:

In the Volcano Islands—American troops swarmed over the southwest and southeast beaches of Iwo after two landings only ten minutes apart. Tokyo added the customary claim that the troops had been "repulsed" after fierce fighting.

In the Philippines — American paratroops, dropping from transport planes, and seaborne troops invaded Corregidor island at the entrance to Manila Bay and fierce fighting is under way on the southern shores. The thrusts followed by only 48 hours an amphibious landing on the southern tip of Bataan, five miles north of Corregidor.

Five Albertans Are Decorated For Gallantry

FO. D. J. Gillis, RCAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gillis, 10718 106 street, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for gallantry in action overseas, according to an announcement Saturday by Air Force headquarters.

He was one of 37 members of the RCAF serving overseas comprising the list released. Of the total, 35 were awarded the DFC and two the Distinguished Flying Medal.

Other Albertans receiving the DFC were:

FO. J. K. Firesen, Altona.
FO. W. R. Brennan, Calgary.
FO. F. H. Fish, Calgary.
FO. G. W. Hinman, Cardston.

Flying Officer Gillis was born in this city 26 years ago. He attended McDougall and Victoria High schools.

RE-MUSTERED

He enlisted in the RCAF in 1940 and was assigned to ground crew duties, but in 1942 he re-mustered for aircrew. He received training at Saskatoon and Prince Albert, and was graduated as a pilot.

On Nov. 1, 1943, he went overseas and has been in the European theatre of operations ever since. He completed his first tour of operations toward the end of November, 1944.

One brother, Lt. John Gillis, was killed in action on the Western Front last August while serving with the Calgary Highlanders. Two other brothers, Edward and William, are serving with the Royal Canadian Navy and a sister, Cpl. Mary Gillis, is with the RCAF (WD). Three other sisters, Mrs. E. W. Howard, Mrs. W. Fawcett and Miss Ruth Gillis are in this city.

Nazis Claim RAF Attack Beaten Off

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The Berlin radio claimed today that German fighters shot down seven RAF bombers which attempted unsuccessfully to attack a German surface convoy off the Norwegian coast north of Bergen. There was no Allied confirmation of the report.

Infant Killed, 2 Are Injured In Night Fire

A 4-month-old baby boy was dead and two adults were in the Royal Alexandra hospital Friday night as a result of injuries received when fire swept through the upper portion of their residence at 10650 111 street.

The dead child is Barry Munroe, one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. George Munroe of Wolf Creek.

Others injured and in hospital are:

Mrs. Lucy Hepner, who had been looking after the children, and K. H. Skaro of the same address.

Two other Munroe children who also lived in the house, were removed to safety uninjured.

UNKNOWN ORIGIN

The fire, according to Fire Chief James Macgregor, was of unknown origin and occurred on the second floor of the house. It was discovered about 7:10 p.m. by Mrs. Hepner, who turned in the alarm.

The infant was taken from a smouldering crib by Mrs. Hepner, after her attention had been drawn to someone's cry that there was smoke in the house. After taking the baby to safety she returned to the house which was

See Socialistic Economy Under Tax Exemption

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The Canadian Wholesale Grocers' Association, in a brief submitted to the Royal Commission investigating the taxation of co-operatives, said yesterday continued exemption from income and excess profits tax for co-operatives would lead ultimately to state-owned monopolies or a socialistic economy.

Briefs were submitted during the day by Independent Poultry and Egg Dealers and Hatchery Operators of Saskatchewan and by the Ottawa Board of Trade objecting to special taxation treatment for co-operatives. The viewpoint of the co-operatives was placed before the commission in a brief from the Co-operative Union of Canada.

ACCEPT PRINCIPLE

The Wholesale Grocers' Association said in its brief, presented by R. R. Evans of Hamilton, it did not object to the principle of co-operatives and was prepared to meet competition from them on equal terms, but objected to the co-operatives enjoying an unfair advantage through their favorable tax position.

The association opposed the

350 Bombers Blast German Railway Yards

LONDON, Feb. 17. — (CP) — United States heavy bombers, carrying the mighty air offensive against Germany into its fourth day, smashed at the enemy homeland from the west today, and Berlin indicated Mediterranean-based squadrons were striking from the south again.

Three hundred and fifty United States heavy bombers attacked the great freight yards at Frankfurt behind the western front today, escorted by 150 fighters which strafed German troops on the return flight. Frankfurt, on the Main river, is an important rail junction on principal lines connecting Central Germany with the western front.

About 1,700 United States and British heavies, including a force of Italian-based bombers which struck the Regensburg factory where German jet-propelled planes are turned out, ranged unmolested over a wide area of Germany yesterday.

10 Feared Dead In Tacoma Fire

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Fire Chief C. J. Eisenbacher said today he anticipated "a minimum of 10 persons" lost their lives early today when a fire of undetermined origin destroyed a four-storey business district hostelry housing between 75 and 85 persons, mostly war workers, servicemen's wives and their families.

One was known dead, one known missing and 13 were treated for burns and injuries from leaping from windows and the roof of the flaming structure.

Eisenbacher estimated the loss at $50,000.

Firemen believed several persons were trapped in the rear apartments when the flames and smoke shot up the large inner light well and smoke and flames suddenly poured from the roof and windows.

Germans Charge Poland Governor With Cowardice

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The Moscow radio reported yesterday that the German army high command was demanding the investigation and prosecution of Dr. Hans Franck, Nazi governor of Poland, on charges of cowardice and desertion in the face of the enemy.

If Franck is prosecuted under Hitler's new "fight or be shot" decree he will be the seventh high German official reported to have been charged with desertion since the Red Army offensive.

Others included Dr. Karl Spechhagen, deputy burgomaster of Breslau; Kurt Shroettler, mayor of Koenigsberg; Ludwig Steeg, mayor of Berlin; Ritz Bracht, gauleiter of Upper Silesia, and Dr. Picklum, mayor of Bochum.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—Marshal Stalin announced tonight that Soviet forces in East Prussia had captured the stronghold of Wormditt and Mehlsack, southwest of Koenigsberg.

By ROBERT MUSEL
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 17—(BUP)—The German high command said today that a Russian siege army had broken into Breslau, encircled capital of Silesia.

A Berlin communique acknowledged Soviet penetrations in attacks on the fortress of Breslau, and other reports indicated that the industrial city of more than 600,000 on the Oder was doomed.

The Nazi command admitted the loss of Sagan, key city on the Berlin-Breslau railway and on the Bober river, to the first Ukrainian Army driving west toward Dresden and northwest toward Berlin.

Moscow dispatches said the Red Air Force was carrying out one of its greatest campaigns of the war over the Oder, Neisse and Spree Valleys.

BLAST AT NAZIS

Fighting off German planes shifted from the western front, Soviet reports said, the Russian airmen blasted German air fields, spread havoc through their communications, and scattered troop concentrations along and behind the front.

Red Star, the Soviet military journal, said that for three successive days the Russians flew 10,000 sorties a day.

A front dispatch to the Communist party organ Pravda said Russian mobile forces had broken through to the Neisse river on a

Hint Germans May Quit Italy

ROME, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark, Allied ground commander in Italy, warned the people of Northern Italy today that "the full might of Allied air power is being turned against supply and communications routes of the enemy leading out of northern Italy in order that any attempt at a German withdrawal may be made as costly as possible."

This was the first official mention here of the possibility of German withdrawal of some 27 divisions that have faced the British 8th and Allied armies.

The Allied command in Italy told patriots in the north that "attempts by the Germans to withdraw in Italy become increasingly likely," particularly "in this phase of the war when in the east the Russian armies are sweeping on to Berlin and in the west the British and Americans are smashing through the Siegfried line defences."

RCMP Arrest Auto Dealer On 53 Counts

First arrest arising out of investigation by RCMP officers of second-hand car dealers books was made Friday when Erwood C. "Dutch" Lyons, 10141 102 street, was taken into custody on 53 counts of selling above the ceiling price, making false written statements and false returns in connection with automobile and truck sales.

Gerald O'Connor, KC, and Neil V. German have been appointed special prosecutors by the Dominion department of justice. Nelles V. Buchanan, KC, is representing Mr. Lyons. The informant in the charges is Sgt. Sidney C. Coggles, RCMP.

ON BAIL

Lyons was released on $10,000 bail late Friday afternoon. Preliminary hearing of the charges will open in the supreme court on Feb. 26 with Magistrate H. L. Hawe, KC, presiding. He is taking the preliminary hearing by agreement with the attorney-general's department.

ABOVE CEILING

Lyons faces 31 charges of alleged selling automobiles and trucks above the ceiling prices established by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. It was stated that approximately $8,400 is involved in the overcharges in the 31 sales.

Eleven of the counts against the accused deal with alleged false written statements given to WTPB investigators in May, 1944, and 10 are in connection with alleged false returns made in connection with automobile or truck sales.

The prosecution follows investigation of books and documents seized in a general seizure of books and documents of used car dealers in Edmonton. The investigation of the books and documents of other dealers is being continued by RCMP officers.

Russians Threaten German Coal Field

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(Reuters)—Nearly 50,000 tons of soft coal a year, essential to Germany's war effort, now are immediately threatened by Marshal Ivan Konev's advance. Covering the vast area between Kottbus and Dresden, this huge agglomeration of coal quarries has been regarded as the largest deposit of its kind in Europe.

Only Mile From 2 Key German Bases

By BOYD LEWIS
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PARIS, Feb. 17.—(BUP)—Canadian First Army troops plunged forward more than two miles in the northern section of the Siegfried line today, cut the Goch-Calcar highway, and closed within a little more than a mile of both Goch and Calcar.

Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's forces, overcoming stiff German resistance and flooded battlegrounds, threw their lower Rhineland offensive into high gear.

First Army troops were fighting on three sides of Goch, keystone base of the German defence front. Infantry and tanks pushing along the road from Kleve were closing against Calcar.

WEAKEN NAZI GRIP

The advance across the road linking the strongholds weakened the German grip on both.

Stalled for almost 48 hours by a flaming wall of German guns thrown across the 17-mile corridor between the Maas (Meuse) and Rhine rivers, Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's troops were on the move again all along the front.

Late reports from the front said the Canadian First Army gains were extended to as much as four miles early today as the Nazi lines began to buckle under the attack.

Field dispatches said Nazi resistance was softening under the shattering ground and air assault and the battle of the Rhineland appeared to be merging swiftly into the battle of the Ruhr.

More than 3,000 American and British warplanes set the offensive rolling yesterday afternoon, laying a terrible pattern of bombs and gunfire across the Maas-Rhine bottleneck. Elements of eight Nazi divisions were caught in the path of the aerial scythe and buried in

Conversion Plan To Be Continued

Instructions have been issued by Ottawa authorities to Arthur Arnold, local representative of the National Housing Act administration, to revive the Jesuit College, and the Edmonton Exhibition grounds accommodation conversion projects, it was announced here Saturday.

These projects were discontinued recently when the National Housing Act was proclaimed operative throughout Canada. At that time protest was made by the City of Edmonton and by veterans' organizations, and a delegation went to Ottawa to seek the reinstatement of these projects, and also the building of approximately 400 accommodation units from materials and pre-fabricated huts at Dawson Creek, B.C.

It is understood that there is a very great possibility that the Dawson Creek, B.C., project will be authorized to meet the serious shortage of housing accommodation here, and it is expected that an announcement in this connection will be made here by Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, on his arrival Monday.

Under present plans 45 accommodation units will be provided under the Jesuit College project, and approximately 47 suites at the Exhibition grounds. Work on these projects will start immediately.

Husband of Opera Star Is Arrested

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Henry Johansen, husband of opera singer Kirsten Flagstad, has been arrested in Norway, the German-controlled Scandinavian telegraphic bureau reported today from Oslo. No reason was given for the arrest. Johansen has been chairman of the board of directors of both the Grand and Biratol hotels in Oslo.

Tells Meeting

Bracken States Tories Against Co-Op. Taxation

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Feb. 17.—(CP)—John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservatives, told a nomination convention here yesterday his party was not in favor of double taxation of both co-operatives and private enterprise.

"I stand for encouragement of co-operatives as the best answer to monopolies and cartels and as an alternative to Socialism," he said, adding that "the Wheat Pool (Manitoba Pool Elevators, Limited) would not be there if it were not for certain actions I took when Premier of Manitoba."

AIDED MOVEMENT

No person had done more than himself to promote growth of the co-operative movement, said the Progressive Conservative leader.

"I am opposed to taxation of patronage dividends as unfair taxation but if we are to fight double taxation of co-operatives, we must also fight double taxation of private enterprise."

(Co-operatives now are exempt from excess profits and income tax and their position is being examined by a Royal Commission on taxation of co-operatives, headed by Mr. Justice Errol M. McDougall of Montreal.

Mr. Bracken outlined his party's aims to 150 attending the convention but did not touch Canada's manpower issue. Allen McCallister of Portage La Prairie was unanimously chosen Progressive Conservative candidate for the Portage constituency in the next federal election. The House of Commons seat now is held by Harry Leader, Liberal.

PARTY'S OBJECTIONS

The Progressive Conservative party's objectives include a high national income and fair distribution of that income among all producing groups, with as much social security as is consistent with level of taxation that will not discourage private enterprise, said Mr. Bracken.

Other aims outlined were:

1. Retention of the profit incentive to private enterprise.

2. A fair deal for farmers "who have never had their share of national income because the Dominion's economy was allowed to become lopsided."

3. A more equitable standard of living for rural dwellers.

4. Opportunity for children of farmers to enjoy health and the best education the state could afford.

5. Jobs for all.

Bataan Recaptured By American Units

By C. YATES McDANIEL

MANILA, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Bataan has been captured by the Americans—accomplishing in a little more than two weeks what it took Japan more than three months to do in 1942.

A communique announced today the regaining of the historic peninsula where hundreds of Americans died before survivors were forced by lack of arms and food to capitulate April 9, 1942.

(George Thomas Fulfter, NBC war correspondent, reported from Manila there still are Japanese troops on Bataan but they are unorganized and forced to take refuge in the hills.)

The master stroke in the move to regain Bataan was an amphibious swing by the 11th Army Corps from

by Bob Hope

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 17.—The Army has been taking over a lot of these swanky homes and hotels around here for redistribution centres and convalescent homes for soldiers. And when the Army takes over they really do it in a hurry. I was visiting some friends in their very ritzy house. I dropped into the kitchen for a glass of water and peeled potatoes for three days before I could convince the mess sergeant that I was wearing California sun tan, not a uniform.

BOB HOPE

The big Miami Biltmore hotel is now filled with convalescent soldiers. This is where they used to charge $40 a day for a room. The CO prints the orders of the day in French, and when I went in to put on a show, they made me use the service entrance in the rear.

Once these guys settle down here they really recover in a hurry. In fact, yesterday two soldiers gave transfusions to a plasma bottle. They really get wonderful treatment. Nothing is too good for these soldiers here . . . except the nurses. The guys are happy here . . . always laughing and smiling . . . then I put on my show. I don't know how it went over, but when I finished they gave my script the Purple Heart. They have facilities for the GI's to take in all kinds of sports. But they never forget their army training. I played golf with them and when I started swinging it was very strange . . . seeing those big fox holes on the first green.

Berlin Admits Soviets Break Into Breslau

broad front reaching within 12 miles of Cottbus, major base in the south-eastern defenses of Berlin.

CRUMBLES DEFENCES

The 12-mile advance crumbled defence positions on the lower reaches of the Duebet river, a tributary of the Neisse, and put the Russians within easy artillery range of Cottbus, a big railway hub on the Spree river 47 miles southwest of Berlin.

Northeast of Cottbus, other units of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian Army sweeping along the west bank of the Oder river reached the outskirts of Crossen, 63 miles southeast of Berlin. This column was 17 miles from the first of the Oder bridgeheads which the Germans said the Red Army had established east of the capital.

The southern wing of Konev's army, meantime, began a battle of annihilation against the encircled German garrison of Breslau, capital of Silesia. The encirclement was completed yesterday with the capture of Klettendorf, only a mile southwest of Breslau.

200 TOWNS FALL

More than 200 other Silesian towns and villages were captured as the Soviets closed the ring about Breslau, the Soviet high command announced.

Northeast of Berlin, the Second White Russian Army drove forward on a 30-mile front to within 51 miles southwest of Danzig.

Pravda said Konev's spearheads reached the Neisse river, presumably directly opposite Forst on the Poznan-Cottbus railway, after a thrust from Sommerfeld, on the Luebst river. Cottbus itself has been bombed heavily by Flying Fortresses directly supporting the Soviet drive.

First Army forces northeast of Sommerfeld were arrayed along a 17-mile stretch of the Bober river running south from its confluence with the Oder at Crossen. Rundorf, a mile and a half west of Crossen, and Deutsch Sagar, two miles southwest and 62 miles southeast of Berlin, were captured by the Soviets yesterday.

The advance cleared a 150-square-mile area in the Oder bend between the Oder and the Bober rivers.

LONDON, Feb. 17—(AP)—Russian troops closed on shell-ripped Guben 50 miles southeast of Berlin today and hammered toward Cottbus, a second gateway fortress city on the Spree river 47 miles from the German capital. A Moscow dispatch said armored units of Marshal Ivan Konev's army perhaps had ranged to within 35 miles of Berlin. Guben, on the Neisse river, was under artillery barrage, and Soviet troops fought toward it from three sides.

Baatan Taken By U.S. Forces In Two Weeks

Olongapo naval base on Subic Bay around to Mariveles, the south tip of Bataan, protected by guns of the United States 7th Fleet and planes of the Far East Air Force.

LANDED AT MARIVELES

Maj.-Gen. Charles P. Hall's 11th Corps landed at Mariveles Thursday morning. Preceding the landing, the harbor was cleared of mines "in a daring and skilful operation," today's communique said.

The battle for Bataan's recapture opened Jan. 29 with landings on the Zambales Province coast in a push toward Olongapo.

From Mariveles, big land guns can be set up to shell Corregidor.

Jim Hutcheson, an Associated Press correspondent aboard the attack force flagship, said the invasion fleet steamed unscathed past Corregidor, which fired only a half dozen shots.

The 38th Division units commanded by Brig. Gen. William G. Chase pushed quickly inland from a beachhead of 500 yards.

Bombed and shelled Mariveles was occupied immediately. Two nearby airfields were seized.

The convoy had to sail through a gap a little more than four miles wide between the rock and Cochinos Point on Bataan.

Gunfire from Corregidor fortress was neutralized beforehand by cruiser and destroyer batteries, and by American planes.

REFUSE SURRENDER

American tanks and guns renewed their assault on the ancient walled city in Manila today after the Japanese defenders there ignored an offer of Corps Commander Maj.-Gen. Oscar Griswold, of honorable surrender and safe conduct of several thousand civilians.

The offer, made at 8 o'clock last night, was unanswered at the end of a four-hour limit set by the General.

Canadians Gain Against Stunned German Forces

HEAVY ASSAULTS

Every German strongpoint and battery in a five-mile arc around Goch and Calcar was blasted with rockets, bombs and cannon-fire, and the nearby villages of Weeze, Hassum and Asperden rocked for hours under an almost continuous bombardment.

Other bombers ranged 20 miles east and 12 miles north of Goch to pound the Rhine crossing at Wesel and Rees.

Canadian, English and Scots infantrymen moved out of their muddy foxholes while the bombs were still falling up ahead and began rooting dazed Nazi troopers out of the wreckage of houses and earthworks all along the front.

On their left flank, Crerar's troops captured Huisberden, four miles northwest of Calcar, while other units pushing down the main road from Kleve were reported barely two miles north of Calcar.

FIND WEAK SPOT

Farther west, British units attacking down the Kleve-Uedem road uncovered a weak spot in the Nazi defences and won a local breakthrough. They swept in behind the Germans' crack 116 panzer division, split the Nazi armor and rolled almost four miles down the highway to within striking distance of the lateral Calcar-Goch road. At that point they were nearing the crossroads hamlet of Lindhoven, only three miles northwest of Uedem.

Scottish riflemen at the centre of the line burst out of the south-eastern corner of the Reich's forest and fought their way more than a mile southward toward Goch.

Hundreds of bomb-crazed Germans were reported surrendering, although at some points the Nazi commanders mustered small tank and infantry formations and attempted localized counter attacks, all successful.

NEAR HOMMERSUM

Farther west toward the Maas, other British forces expanded their bridgeheads across the Niers river and pushed out almost two miles southeast of Hommersum.

Preliminary reports of the great air strike which extended beyond the Canadian First Army front eastward into Germany and south to Alsace, revealed that the Allied fliers destroyed or damaged at least 200 locomotives and 1,800 railway cars.

In addition, they were believed to have piled up heavy losses among the Nazi divisions massed in the gateway to the Rhur.

Elsewhere on the long western front, both sides were sparring cautiously in the preliminary phases of the all-out offensive that was expected to explode into the German West Wall at almost any hour.

There were no major changes on the Roer river front before the Cologne plain or on the American Third and Seventh Army lines to the south.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army troops maintained their initiative in the Sure river bridgeheads northwest of Echternach, gaining about a half-mile more at some points into high ground overlooking the Pruem river. Almost 30 miles to the north, they beat off a German attack on the Hermespand bridge across the Pruem river three miles northeast of the town of Pruem.

Canuck Squadrons Fly 1,500 Sorties

OTTAWA, Feb. 17—(CP)—RCAF squadrons flew nearly 1,500 sorties this week, giving strong support to the 1st Canadian Army driving to the Rhine, and an air force summary last night said "this close co-ordination for the first time on such a scale between Canadian air and ground forces is historically significant."

Usually the RCAF fighter and fighter-bomber group co-operate with the 2nd British Army. However, when the Canadian army launched its large scale offensive the Spitfires and Typhoons gave their fullest support to date.

Total score for the week shows seven locomotives destroyed and 38 damaged; 200 railway cars destroyed or damaged; 6 mechanical transport destroyed and 63 damaged; seven barges and one bridge hit and 62 rail cuts.

Despite the enemy's reticence to engage, RCAF fighters have destroyed 10 of his aircraft, eight in the air and two on the ground.

From the week's operations 11 bombers, six coastal command aircraft and five fighters are missing, but two of the fighter pilots are safe.

Police at Toronto Hunt For Deserters

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Squads of federal, city and military police began combing Toronto streets, poolrooms and restaurants yesterday in search of home defence army deserters and draft dodgers and 100 men were taken in for questioning in the first sweep. All men questioned who failed to produce satisfying military or military-exemption credentials were taken to police stations.

"Deblock" Credits

PARIS, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Agence Francaise De Presse reported yesterday that Canada had "deblocked" French stocks and deposits in Canada. The semi-official news agency said, that while the exact value of the credits unfrozen by Canada was not specified they were believed equal to French credits in the United States.

German Civilians Seek Safety Behind Allies' Lines—Not Own

By DOUGLAS AMARON

WITH THE 1st CANADIAN ARMY IN GERMANY, Feb. 17.—(CP)—German civilians, some of them greeting 1st Canadian Army soldiers with smiles that were not reciprocated, sought safety yesterday behind Allied lines instead of their own as fighting raged southeast of Bedburg.

Pushing hand carts filled with a variety of personal belongings and carrying suitcases and large wicker baskets, they moved along the roads in the battle area, about 2½ miles southeast of Kleve, as jeep ambulances brought back battle casualties.

As the civilians—mostly women and children—arrived at a point several thousand yards behind the line, they were taken in hand by Allied authorities and given identification labels.

being quickly vacated by the other tenants.

Occupants of the house, outside Mrs. Hepner, the baby and Mr. Skaro, fled in night attire and were given refuge in the homes of neighbors. The others were rushed to hospital, where the little boy died about three and a half hours after being admitted.

CONDITION FAIR

According to hospital authorities Saturday morning, Mrs. Hepner's condition was described as being "fair". Mr. Skaro's injuries were said to have been slight.

Flames were confined to the upper part of the house, where considerable damage was done. No fire occurred in the downstairs portion, although some damage was done there by water.

Halls 5 and 8 responded, working under the direction of Chief James Macgregor.

It was stated by police that an inquest would probably be held.

Officers were continuing Saturday the investigations.

Maidstone Curlers Cop 'Spiel Honors

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LLOYDMINSTER, Feb. 17.—Picking up a five-ender in the tenth end of the Grand Challenge final in the Lloydminster Curling Club's 32nd annual bonspiel, Tom Hanon's rink from Maidstone, Sask., Friday night carried off premier honors in the day's events. The Scutchings rink from here took second place, Carruthers of Lashburn, Sask. third and Lawson of Lloydminster fourth.

Four local rinks, Proctor, Wade, Thorpe and McBride are left in the professional men's competition, while in the Alberta event, Carruthers of Lashburn defeated Coles of Lloydminster in the finals. Brady and Aslon of the home club gained third and fourth respectively.

Three rinks left in the Merchants' competition are Ellis of North Battleford; Carruthers of Lashburn and Wade of Lloydminster. Remaining games in the bonspiel will be played off next Wednesday with the exception of those events in which visiting rinks are participating. These will be concluded over the weekend.

Another Defaulter From Army Found Living in Cabin

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Another army defaulter, found in a cabin in the woods 16 miles northeast of Port Arthur, was taken into custody by the Army Provost Corps detachment here, it was announced last night.

The soldier, said to have been absent from army duty for three months, was found about 30 miles from nearby Mount Mckay where earlier this week four defaulters were taken from a log cabin where they had prepared for a comfortable winter.

Provost Corps men tramped several miles on snowshoes over deep, freshly fallen snow to reach the cabin.

Saskatoon Flier In U-Boat Attack

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Flt.-Lt. B. L. Whitney of Saskatoon, Sask., was pilot of the RAF coastal command Sunderland flying boat which Navy Minister Macdonald said at a Tuesday press conference co-operated in attacks on a U-boat in the North Atlantic some months ago. It was disclosed last night in an RCAF press release.

Ex-Police Official Lynched by Mob

PARIS, Feb. 17—(AP)—Jacques Marsac, former commissioner of police at Dijon, was lynched by a mob in that city Agence Francaise de Presse, reported yesterday. The news agency said the crowd broke into the jail Thursday afternoon, seized Marsac and hanged him to a road sign. Later the body was dragged through the streets and hanged a second time in front of the city hall. The mob acted, the agency said, after a court had postponed his trial on collaborationist charges until the end of hostilities.

Blood Donor Clinic Visits Ryley Area

Travelling in many cases by sleigh and open truck through 20 below zero weather, residents of the Ryley district this week "responded wonderfully" to the Edmonton mobile blood donor clinic's stop at that town Thursday. Operating all day, clinic officials received donations from 131 citizens from Tofield, Round Hill, Lindbrook, Amisbrook, and the Ryley district.

The Ryley clinic was arranged by the local Rebekah Lodge, working in conjunction with the Red Cross branch. Those in charge were Mrs. W. B. Ruddy, Mrs. G. Lyons, Mrs. F. Erickson and Red Cross president, Mrs. E. A. Soleberg.

At Holden, Tuesday and Wednesday, 172 donations were received. Under direction of Mrs. W. R. Stewart, donors travelled from Bruce, Poe, Kinsella, Haight and the Holden district.

In charge of the travelling clinic were Miss E. Hugill, RN, her assistant, Mrs. H. R. Evans, and Driver W. H. Werner. Weather permitting, the clinic will visit Radway next Wednesday and Thursday.

Partisan Action Seen in Austria

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Joseph Fitzhum, prominent Austrian Nazi, was assassinated recently, a traveller from Vienna told reporters at Malmo yesterday.

The informant claimed there was a strong partisan movement comprising socialists, Catholics and communists actively at work in many parts of Austria seeking to sabotage Nazi efforts to hold the southern bulwark of the Reich.

The traveller expressed belief that Viennese now being called upon by the Nazis to defend Vienna were preparing by the thousands to "use their weapons against the Germans and free the city as happened in Paris."

He said the Germans were aware of this, but had not been able to bring reinforcements to Vienna.

Iwo, Corregidor Said Invaded By Americans

of Hachijo, 200 miles south of Tokyo, since early yesterday.

In Japan—Hundreds of American carrier planes, attacking in waves an hour and a half apart, raided Tokyo for at least eight and a half hours today following yesterday's raid of nine to ten hours. A Tokyo newspaper said American forces may be planning to invade the Japanese homeland.

The purported landing on the strategic air base island of Iwo put American troops for the first time on Japanese soil administered as part of the Tokyo prefecture.

A Japanese communique claimed counter-attacking Japanese batteries and planes at Iwo sank a battleship, two cruisers and two other ships in the invasion fleet. Three assault landing craft were damaged and ten American planes shot down, the communique said.

HEAVILY BOMBARDED

The report of the invasion came on the second day of an earth-shaking bombardment of Iwo by more than 30 American warships—ranging from battleships to destroyers—and scores of carrier and land-based bombers. Most shore batteries were knocked out yesterday.

A landing on Iwo would represent an amphibious jump of 750 miles—half-way to Tokyo—from the Marianas for the Americans and would give them at least three strategic air bases within Flying Fortress, Liberator and fighting-plane range of the enemy capital.

Wave after wave of American carrier planes sent hundreds more tons of bombs crashing down on smoking Tokyo today.

JAPANESE CLAIMS

The enemy communique admitted that 61 Japanese planes had been lost in yesterday's nine to 10-hour attack, but claimed 147 American planes were shot down and more than 50 damaged. Japanese planes counter-attacking the American task force "heavily damaged and set afire" a large warship, believed an aircraft carrier, the communique said.

Tokyo broadcasts freely interpreted the assault as a diversionary attack to cover an invasion of Iwo and one said an American landing on Japan itself may be near. Another warned without elaboration that American forces may "attempt to come near the homeland at two points, one of them the Boso Peninsula," western arm of Tokyo Bay and site of the Yokosuku naval base.

Three waves totalling 50 planes from the sky-filling fleet of 1,200 to 1,300 aboard the world's biggest carrier Armada standing less than 300 miles off the Japanese coast opened today's assault on the Tokyo area soon after dawn, enemy broadcasts said.

TRANSPORT HIT

Other formations followed at intervals of an hour and a half, concentrating on greater Tokyo itself rather than inland targets as yesterday, broadcasts said. They admitted transportation facilities in the Tokyo metropolitan district and adjacent areas had been hit.

Tokyo said the waves of raiders today averaged 70 to 80 planes, compared with 150 at a time yesterday. However, a Superfortress pilot who witnessed yesterday's raids said as many as 1,200 planes were over the capital at one time. It was speculated that the planes flew more than 2,000 sorties yesterday.

Japs Claim U.S. Cruiser Is Sunk

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The Tokyo radio asserted today that a Japanese flier in a suicide dive had accounted for a United States cruiser in the Iwo Jima area yesterday. The cruiser sank almost instantly, the broadcast said.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 17.—(AP)—A passenger train crashed into a derailed mail and express train at Leaman Place, 11 miles east of here, today, but no one was injured seriously, the Pennsylvania Railroad public relations office reported.

Alberta Will Get Fire-Killed Logs

VICTORIA, Feb. 17—(CP)—Approval for up to 1,000,000 board feet of fire-killed sawlogs in eastern B.C. to be salvaged and exported to Alberta, has been granted J. G. Strong of Fernie, B.C., by order-in-council. The timber was killed by forest fires in 1936 and while not suitable for lumber is acceptable by box mills in Alberta where it will be cut into box shooks.

See Socialistic Economy Under Tax Exemption

present exemption on the ground that:

1. It enabled co-operatives to build up large post-war reserves while ordinary business, meeting heavy taxation, could accumulate little, if any, reserves.

2. It constituted a government subsidy which enabled all but grossly mismanaged co-operatives to weather the storms of good times and bad.

3. It placed additional burdens on other taxpayers.

The brief said:

CAN'T LONG CONTINUE

"It is inconceivable that heavily-taxed business can long continue to successfully compete with such tax-free competitors. That such taxed businesses with unsubstantial reserves could stand the strain of depression under such competition, that failure after failure of one concern after another would not ensue and if left to run its present course the existing situation would not inevitably result in the creation of a multitude of monopolies each alone and supreme in its own chosen field and territory."

The association said it did not challenge the right of the co-operative movement to an integral place in the commercial life of the country but it was concerned with the wide disparity in the imposition of taxes between co-operatives and businesses in competition with them.

The association said 95 per cent of its customers were independent merchants whose businesses were jeopardized by the expansion of co-operatives. In addition, many of the men now in the forces were looking forward to using their war gratuities for establishing themselves in small businesses of this type.

FAVORED POSITION

S. P. Grosch of Regina, appearing for the Independent Poultry and Egg Dealers and Hatchery Operators of Saskatchewan, said the tax exemption enjoyed by co-operatives was putting them in such a favored position that large numbers of independent dealers were being forced to sell out.

The expansion of companies subjected to heavy war taxation was severely restricted while co-operatives with reserves built out of their tax-free profits were able to expand. Limitations on advertising and maintenance imposed by income and excess profits taxes did not apply to the co-operatives.

The pyramiding of taxation, resulting from loss of revenue from business conducted by the co-operatives, imposed increasing burdens on other tax payers and would eventually lead to a collapse of the entire tax structure.

The Ottawa Board of Trade brief presented by W. J. Halpin included two resolutions calling for the taxation of public utilities and co-operatives engaging in outside activities in competition with other businesses.

The board said the present basis of taxation applicable to utilities was "inequitable and discriminatory" and there was no basis for the exemption of public utilities.

The resolution on co-operatives asked that they be taxed on the same basis as privately-owned businesses where they were competitive.

enemy a number of the jet fighters which were caught on the ground, the Mediterranean Air Force announced. United States heavies also hit a jet plane plant at Neuburg, 50 miles north of Munich, and Landsburg field, 35 miles west of Munich, where the twin-engined Messerschmitts are based.

RAF heavy and medium bombers from Italy hit shipping installations at Fiume in northern Italy.

Since the Allied air offensive from the west began Tuesday night, close to 7,000 four-engined bombers have dropped thousands of tons of explosives on at least 25 German cities in the most furious sustained assault of the war.

SUPPORT TROOPS

More than 1,000 United States 8th Air Force bombers, followed by 200 RAF Lancasters, struck at seven oil, rail and communications towns close behind the western front by daylight yesterday.

American losses have not yet been announced. All the British planes returned from their low-level attack on Wesel, a city at the northeast corner of the Ruhr.

British medium bombers hit a V-1 rocket bomb launching site in Holland with 18 tons of bombs, and typhoons plastered a V-2 assembly site with rockets yesterday. At the same time tactical air forces raked enemy positions just ahead of allied troops.

Survivor Tells How U.S. Sub Sank Japanese Prison Ship

APPLETON, Wis., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Sgt. Avery E. Wilber, 32, of Navarino, Wis., said here yesterday that a Japanese transport crammed with 1,800 American prisoners of war was sunk by a submarine Oct. 24, 1944, and that as far as he was able to learn, he and four others were the only survivors.

Relating his experiences in an interview, Sgt. Wilber told how the ship left the Philippines Oct. 11 and 13 days later was struck by a torpedo in the China sea.

"We were jammed into two holds, with 1,200 in the one I was placed," he said. "The ship was cut in two by the explosion. I ran up and walked right off the deck into the water. I had on a life jacket and I managed to stay afloat until I got on a lifeboat on which was one man. Three others later got on it with us and we floated for three days before we reached shore."

NAMES COMPANIONS

Wilber said his companions on the 25-mile trip to land, under the guns of the Japanese navy and air force, were Robert F. Overbeck, a civil engineer from Baltimore (now a lieutenant in the army), Master Sgt. Calvin R. Graef, of Silver City, N. M., Cpl. Anton E. Cichi, of New York Mills, Minn., and Cpl. Don E. Meyer, of Wilmington, Calif.

He continued: "We were so crowded in the holds we had to take turns to lie down.

"When the torpedo struck, guards ignored us and hundreds of us Americans got into the water but the Japs wouldn't let us get in their lifeboats. They beat us off with clubs.

"A Jap destroyer picked up Japanese survivors and ignored us. I was wounded in the left arm by the explosion but after floating for several hours a lifeboat in which Overbeck was in floated my way.

MEN PICKED UP

"We picked up Cichi that night and the next day took Graef and Meyer off a raft. We had a three-gallon can of water and a can of biscuits in the boat. We rationed it and still had some left when we reached the China coast three days later."

Wilber said he knew of no others beside the five in his boat who were rescued. He is home on a furlough until March 15.

Road to Health

Little English Pub Helps War Victims

By FRANK LOWE

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Many a wounded Canadian serviceman has helped find his way back to health through the doors of a little English pub.

Situated near a large military hospital it is the first place many Canadian wounded from the western front and Italy visit after they are allowed out of bed.

They explain that after a man has been badly wounded, has lost an arm or a leg, he is desperately shy of appearing in public and the treatment he receives in the pub helps shake him free of that attitude.

TOLD ABOUT PUB

One Saturday night a Nova Scotia youth was told he could go for a walk outside the hospital for the first time. He had practised with his crutches in hospital corridors but wasn't too keen on being seen by strangers. It took persuasion to convince him a visit to the pub would do him good.

He made it up the short hill with ease, stepped through the door which was held open for him, then suddenly lost his confidence when faced by a roomful of people.

A nursing sister said: "Why it's nice to see you out—won't you have a drink?" Next thing the boy knew he was arguing about the battle for Caen as though he hadn't a worry in the world.

After awhile he asked to be allowed to buy the drinks. No one said anything about how he could get the glasses from the bar to the table while on crutches or offered to help. They just gave their orders.

SEPARATE TRIPS

He ordered the drinks and by making separate trips and holding each glass carefully between his thumb and first finger while his other finger gripped his crutch, made it. Afterwards he looked to see if anyone had noticed or laughed at his clumsy manoeuvring. No one had paid the slightest attention.

With a grin he said to the nurse, "You know, I'm a pretty agile guy!" And the nurse claimed that that was the first joke she had heard the boy attempt since he entered the hospital with his leg missing below the knee.

Airman Seeks Funds For Blind Daughter

BRANTFORD, Ont., Feb. 17.—(CP)—The lone ambition of Sgt. J. Marrisen, a Royal Canadian Air Force gunner home on compassionate leave, is gather together enough money to obtain for his blind two-year-old daughter, Gail, the best treatment specialists can give her to restore her sight. Gail, went blind from a cerebal hemorrhage. Her optical nerves were affected and her blindness may be caused by pressure on her nerves, her father believes.

Beaverbrook's Son Made Candidate

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(Reuters)—Group Capt. Max Aitken, elder son of Lord Beaverbrook, who has won both the DSO and the DFC with the RAF in this war, was launched on a political career yesterday. The Conservative Association of the London borough of Holborn chose him as the party's candidate there in the next general election. His Canadian-born father was Conservative member for Ashton-Under-Lyne from 1910 to 1916.

TOMMY WAS ASTUTE

RUCHILL, Scot. — (CP) — Pte John Wilson's wife was whipped off to hospital just before he had to go back to camp and he had no place to leave his five-month-old baby daughter. He took her to barracks with him—and got indefinite compassionate leave.

Charges CCF Uses Schools As Party Tool

REGINA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—An article on the seed grain dispute between the province and the Dominion government, sent to school teachers and others by the provincial CCF government yesterday sparked off warm debate in the Saskatchewan legislature.

Opposition Leader W. J. Patterson moved adjournment of the legislature to discuss a matter of urgent public importance and said that the CCF government had taken a "wrong and indefensible" action sending copies of the article, written by provincial treasurer C. M. Fines, to school teachers. Schools always had been considered aloof from politics.

Mr. Fines replied that the article was not "political propaganda" and the government planned to continue keeping teachers and other Saskatchewan citizens informed of the government activities.

VOTED DOWN

Mr. Patterson's motion was voted down without a recorded vote.

Mr. Patterson quoted a letter appearing in the Regina Leader-Post yesterday, written by L. H. Neatby, a school principal of Wilkie, Sask.

Mr. Neatby said he had received 10 copies of the article by Mr. Fines and that the government had made "a highly improper attempt to use the schools of Saskatchewan as a tool in party warfare."

The article reviewed the dispute between the province and Dominion seed grain debt.

NAKED PROPAGANDA

Mr. Neatby said the article was "sheer, naked party propaganda" which "stigmatizes" the attitude of the Dominion government in the dispute as being "cheap, irrelevant and libellous." Mr. Fines sought to use the schools "as an instrument to stir animosity against the government of Canada to which our first allegiance is due."

Mr. Patterson said the government action in sending the article to schools deserved the condemnation of all public-spirited citizens. It was "wrong and indefensible," and an "appeal to prejudice and party feeling." It had been put out at public expense.

Mr. Fines replied that it was not the intention of the government or the bureau of publication to use schools for the dissemination of political propaganda.

DENIES PROPAGANDA

He said he denied the article was political propaganda. School teachers were accepted as citizens, although they had not always been treated as such when the Liberals were in power.

Mr. Neatby had been sent 10 copies so he could distribute them to fellow-teachers. They were not to be placed in school rooms among the pupils, said Mr. Fines.

The government would continue sending out such information.

As a teacher, he had received many Liberal pamphlets and publications issued by the wartime information board at Ottawa. Prime Minister Mackenzie King had copies of a speech on the army reinforcement question sent to teachers.

Mr. Fines said he challenged Mr Patterson to rise and say in what respects the article was incorrect.

Mr. Patterson said that if he rose he would close the debate, he told Mr. Fines to continue.

Mr. Fines said the opposition leader had made statements without "honest motives", and he should apologize.

Liquor Regulation Not "Prohibitory"

CALGARY, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The section of the Alberta Liquor Control Act requiring that purchase of liquor be made by permit holders from government liquor stores is not "prohibitory legislation" Chief Justice Horace Harvey asserted during a liquor appeal hearing before the Alberta appeal court here yesterday.

His Lordship said the purpose of the legislation was to increase the revenue of the province. It was not for the purpose of preventing people from having liquor in their homes.

"We once had prohibitory legislation but that is not the situation now," His Lordship said.

The court dismissed an appeal by the attorney general from a judgment of Judge A. M. MacDonald who quashed conviction of William Makaraenko, East Coulee, and a fine of $300 and costs, on a charge of having had liquor unlawfully in his possession.

HAPPY ENDING TO FLIGHT—In appreciation of the part they played in the location of a department of transport plane which was forced down on Jan. 13, FO. Jack Jaworski, pilot, and his crewman, LAC. Hanga, were presented with gold identification bracelets, at RCAF Edmonton station, on Tuesday. The department of transport plane, piloted by J. D. Hunter, inspector of airways, was sighted by Jaworski, in an RCAF Norseman, more than 48 hours after it had been forced down due to a gas shortage. Mr. Hunter, and the six other men aboard the aircraft, were unharmed. Gasoline was flown in to the stranded plane and their interrupted tour of the north was resumed. Picture shows, left to right: FO. Jaworski, GCD. Harding, OBE, AFC, commanding officer, RCAF Station, Edmonton, and Mr. Hunter, who made the presentation.

Regulations forbid individuals sending newspapers overseas. The Edmonton Bulletin prints the news of the week in letter form. Clip it out and send it to your loved ones and friends.

Dear

Throughout the entire week our thoughts have been concentrated on the battlefronts of Europe. Our first consideration of course has gone to you gallant lads of our own, fighting through the water on the Western Front, and the muddy, mountainous areas of Italy, and in the concentrated air raids over Germany. Of course, we have had thoughts too for the lads in navy blue on the sea lanes, who are battling U-boats in their final great effort to cut Allied lifelines.

Our thoughts also have gone out to our great Allies, surging forward relentlessly, and with bravery and determination to bring about the downfall of the common enemy.

Here on the home front it has been quiet. A brief spell of mild weather was succeeded in the middle of the week by sub-zero temperature and high winds, all adding up to unpleasantness outside. But with lengthening days and increased heat in the sun, and the prospect of spring being "just around the corner," the situation is easier to bear.

Here are some news highlights of the week.

February 12

While no actual date for the re-opening of the Vermilion School of Agriculture has been set by the Provincial government, plans call for the re-opening next autumn, and an appropriation of $30,000 is expected to be included in the budget for the fiscal year commencing April 1 to take care of expenses. This school, which was established in 1913, was turned over to the Dominion government in the spring of 1942 for use as a basic training centre for the Canadian Women's Army Corps, and it was returned to the province in May, 1944.

William McWhinnie was re-elected president of the Highland Dancing Association at its annual meeting. Other officers elected were: Vice-president, H. Gerrard; secretary, J. B. Cameron; treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Beltzer.

Civilian gasoline consumption in Alberta in 1944 increased by 5,220,237 gallons over 1943, according to figures released by Edmund Trowbridge, MBE. In 1944 civilian consumption aggregated 49,611,486 gallons, as against 44,391,249 gallons in 1943.

Rumor that HMCS Nonsuch, the Edmonton naval training establishment, was to be closed, was denied by Commodore E. R. Brock, CBE. He said no change was contemplated in the establishment. An average of 300 recruits a month was being taken into the service, with discharges averaging about 400 monthly. Recruiting is being continued on a replacement basis and no men are being taken in for shore establishments.

Thirty-one sales of city-owned property were completed in the period Feb. 1-9, with the land involved being valued at $15,605.

There has been no move to stay activities of the two Edmonton battalions of the Veterans' Volunteer Reserve, according to Maj. R. C. Arthurs, MC, executive officer. Activities in Saskatchewan have been halted.

February 13

Officers of the South Side branch of the Canadian Legion were installed at a special ceremony at which Walter R. McLaren, several times president of the main branch here, was installing officer. A. H. Templeton, who served in the Great War of 1914-1918 with the 28th Battalion from Saskatchewan, is president of the South Side branch.

Eleven amendments to The City of Edmonton charter, being applied for at the coming session of the legislature, have been endorsed by city council.

University of Alberta and Victoria High school cagers won the opening games in the Edmonton Men's Basketball League semi-finals at McDougall gym. Varsity turned back Dunn's Tailors 42-31 in the first half of a double-header, and the Vic squad won from TMCA Toilers 27-17.

Edmonton Athletic Club defeated South Side in a City Junior Hockey League game at the Arena 7-4. This was the second last league game before the play-offs.

Approximately $600,000 will be spent during the current year on civic paving projects if city council's approval is given to a street paving program now being drawn up, according to A. W. Haddow, city engineer.

With the opening of the first session of the 10th legislature only a little more than a week away, cabinet ministers and government officials are completing last-minute preparations. While it is rumored that the session will be short, it is expected that it will require at least seven weeks to wind up the agenda. The budget will be of the "economy" variety, and although efforts will be made to keep legislation down to a minimum it is expected at least 75 bills will be introduced.

Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and industry, will come here to open the Colonel Mewburn Pavilion, the new military hospital just north of the University hospital, on Feb. 22. Movement of patients into the hospital already has commenced.

February 14

This is St. Valentine's Day. Paper shortages and the war have caused both curtailment and revision of customs associated with the occasion. Nevertheless the spirit remained the same, and there were many tokens of regard sent, and received. Those in charge of vending valentines reported a trend away from the war and the comic, with expressions of post-war regard predominating.

Chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board since 1935, Dr. Victor W. Wright has resigned, according to Premier Ernest Manning. The cabinet is giving consideration to the resignation and to appointment of a successor.

Edmonton RCAF Flyers moved up into a first-place tie with Red Deer Army Wheelers as the result of a 9-1 defeat administered to Wetaskiwin Army Colonels in a Northern Alberta Services Hockey League game at the Arena.

Defeating W. W. "Billy" Rose of Sedgewick in two straight games, Cliff Manahan of the Royal Curling Club won the Northern Alberta British Consols championship for the sixth time in the last nine years, when he took the best of three final on the Royal rink's smooth ice. After annexing the first contest 7-5 in the morning Manahan continued his winning ways to take the afternoon game 10-6. He will journey to Calgary to meet Hube Gooder, of Olds, and his stalwarts in the final.

Edmonton Athletic Club juveniles took a four-goal lead in the two-game total-goals-to-count City Junior Hockey League semi-final, by shutting out Maple Leafs 4-0 at the 119 street rink. The winner will meet Canadians (B) for the league championship.

The Squadron E Invaders from Ladd Field, Alaska, showed why they boast an unbeaten string of nearly two dozen victories when they whipped the U.S. Alaskan Division Heavyweights Club 49-37 in a basketball clash at Northwest Air Command drill hall.

February 15

Cold weather, with the mercury hovering around the 22 below zero mark, resulted in several fires believed caused by over-heated stoves. Up until noon three fires had been reported, two being in garages and one in a residence.

A shot fired by a policeman failed to bring to a halt two men who ran between two buildings in the vicinity of 95 street and 111 avenue, after discovery of a service station break-in. A third man, said by police to be Robert McGrath, Edmonton, was caught after a short chase, by Constable James Mulcahy. Three constables, Mulcahy, M. Ursel and Alex. Edmunds, were patrolling the Norwood district in a prowler car, and about 4-10 a.m. they observed three men outside the Norwood Service Station. A chase followed, and McGrath was caught.

James Pateman was named president of the Edmonton branch of the Royal Society of St. George at the annual general meeting. Other officers elected were: Vice-presidents, Lord Rodney, W. A. Fairhead, T. E. Kinch and Col. W. F. W. Hancock; chaplain, Dean A. M. Trendell; secretary, F. G. Knight; treasurer, R. W. Ellis.

Canadians, Edmonton Junior City League hockey champions, now on an exhibition tour of the Pacific coast, defeated an all-star coast team 4-1 in a game at Vancouver. The Edmonton squad had a distinct edge over the coast team. Canadians, having clinched first place in the Junior League, await the final series, to be played after Edmonton Athletic Club and Maple Leafs, who finished second and third, respectively, complete their series.

Removal from this province as soon as the war ends of all Japanese was requested by a delegation of the Alberta Federation of Labor that interviewed Premier Ernest Manning and members of his cabinet at the Legislative buildings. The delegation was headed by D. T. MacKenzie, Calgary, president of the Federation.

Dominion government housing authorities have agreed to reconsider their decision to suspend plans to convert the former Jesuit College and RCAF quarters at the Exhibition grounds into quarters to alleviate the serious housing shortage prevailing here, according to H. E. Tanner, president of the Canadian Legion, who has returned here after interviewing officials.

February 16

The province of Alberta is prepared to pay half the cost of clearing and breaking a minimum of 40 acres of a soldier-settler's land if the Dominion government will pay the other half, according to Premier Ernest Manning.

Effective Monday Alberta's beer quota will be raised to two dozen pints a month, or double the present quota, according to J. A. King, chairman of the Alberta Liquor Control Board.

Flight Officer Paul F. Taylor, USAAF ferry pilot was killed in a mid-air collision between two P-63 fighter planes about 40 miles northwest of this city. The pilot of the other plane in the accident, who was uninjured, flew his aircraft back to the Namao airport.

February 17

The Canadian Red Cross Society is prepared to continue its work in aiding the people of war torn countries, according to Jackson Dodds, CBE, who addressed a joint meeting at the Macdonald hotel of the Edmonton branch of the Red Cross and the Men's Canadian Club.

Coal consumers with space in cellars for storage are being urged by W. J. Taylor, regional allocation officer for the Dominion government to gather in supplies in the latter part of March and the beginning of April so that the most efficient use may be made of available manpower.

The cold wave is still with us.

That's all for now.

Best of everything until next week.

200,000 Canadian Retailers Compete for Business

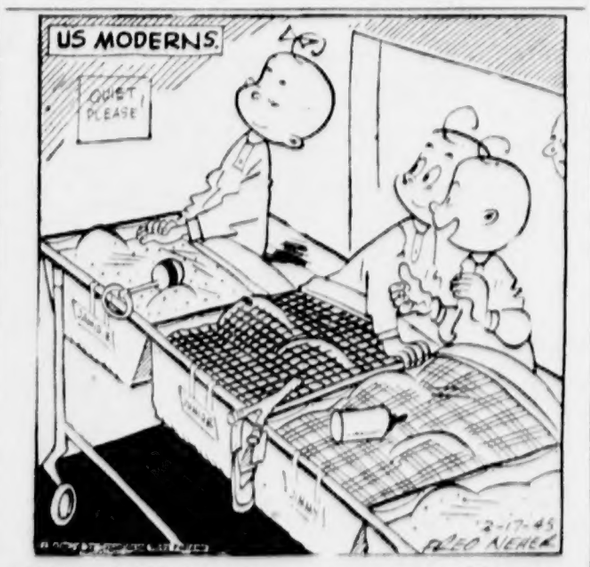

NOTHING, in normal times, lies out of reach of Canadian consumers by aid of Canada's retail shops. From the great department stores in the cities down to the general store at the cross-roads, Canada's retailers are serving the Canadian public well.

Individual initiative . . . free enterprise . . . personal responsibility . . . the spirit of competition in service rendered the public—these are the qualities which have made Canada's retail stores what they are.

Imperial Bank of Canada carries the names of thousands of retailers on its books. In the post-war period many young men will seize opportunities where need for retail services to growing communities will develop. They may look to this bank for friendly consideration of their problems.

Doing Their Full Share

Seven Nazi divisions, it is said, were strung along the sector where the Canadian 1st Army launched its attack. As these couldn't stop the advance they have been heavily reinforced. How heavily is not known in Allied quarters.

An enemy division, since the scaling down made necessary by losses, now numbers about 10,000 men. With the reinforcements thrown in from other sectors or from reserves, it may be supposed that from 100,000 to 150,000 men have been massed to keep our troops from turning the end of the Siegfried fortifications.

It would require 1,500,000 men at least to man the West Wall defences in equal strength from end to end. The Canadians, it is clear from this, are taking on their full share of the enemy troops.

Their attack has not progressed because it was directed against lightly-held objectives, but because it couldn't be stopped by enemy forces proportioned to the length of the salient, fighting behind a "moat" miles wide and feet deep in mud and water.

Remove the Japs

The contention of the Alberta Federation of Labor that all Japanese should be removed from Alberta at the end of the war will receive wide support from all sections of the community.

Only one amendment could be added to this request—that they not only be taken out but kept out.

There is no use trying to argue this matter on sentimental grounds because sentiment has nothing to do with it. The Japanese, as the humanists suggest, may be our brothers. But even if they are, they have caused serious economic distress wherever they have settled in Canada.

It is natural that a wave of dislike for Japanese should presently seize the Canadian people. But this natural dislike is definitely not the basis of the contention that they should be barred from this province.

The reason is entirely economic.

The history of British Columbia offers very revealing testimony in this respect.

In that province, the Japanese, operating on a degraded standard of living, ousted Canadians from many industries, notably the fishing industry and the small fruits industry. These two pursuits fell almost entirely into their hands causing the unemployment of our own nationals.

In the same manner they invaded the vegetable and soft drinks fields, small tailor and repair shops and numerous other small commercial ventures which hitherto had offered employment to our own people.

Now no one will argue that there should be no room in this country for reasonable competition in labor. But competition is not reasonable when it is based on advantages derived through living standards unthinkable for civilized people.

The Japanese have been a scourge and an economic canker wherever they have located.

British Columbia's experience should not be repeated in Alberta.

The Pay-Off Begins

Tokyo has received the first instalment of the pay-off for Pearl Harbor. All day for two consecutive days 1,500 carrier planes from a task force bombed, torpedoed and machine-gunned military and naval targets in and around the city where Tojo and his friends plotted the infamy of Dec. 7th, 1941.

Whether the response evened the score in point of material damage and casualties inflicted will appear later. But that does not much matter, for there are more instalments to come, and they are not likely to be long delayed.

Since the task force which launched the attack was able to operate without interference in Japan's home waters, Koiso and his pals will rightly conclude that further visits are to be anticipated.

Whether the Japanese main fleet did not know the enemy was approaching, or knew but declined to fight, the result is the same. The war has been carried into the zone from which it was the business of that battle fleet to exclude Allied naval forces.

Japanese naval power has been challenged in its own cruising ground, and it failed to ward off a terrific blow at the capital and its own adjacent bases and dock yards.

It's Here at Last

Edmonton people seem to have congratulated themselves prematurely on getting by with a "token" winter while Ontario struggled through five and a half feet of snow and England shivered in the coldest weather for fifty years.

In any country and any language 30 below zero is not rated as an enervating temperature. And the winter is young enough yet that we may get more and worse before spring smiles across this favored land.

But one incalculable blessing deserves recognition, and should inspire profound gratitude. Hereabouts we have plenty of fuel. Ontario people are on rations, and in the Old Lands worn and none-too-plentiful clothing accentuates the hardships of a wartime scarcity of something to burn.

One unsatisfactory feature developed in the city's transportation facilities when the mercury went down. The brakes on the trolley busses won't work in sub-zero weather. Council will have to do something about that. To replace the street cars with trolley busses which can only run when they are least needed simply would not do.

—V—

U.S. air officials say Japan has been accumulating reserves of war planes, by the simple expedient of keeping its machines on the ground when there were enemy craft about. If it doesn't send them into action now the idea must be to keep them as souvenirs.

—V—

The Japs have put up "the fiercest street battles in the Pacific war," in the attempt to hold one corner of Manila. That proves nothing but that, like rats, they will fight when cornered. With the sea behind and MacArthur's men in front they had no choice but to fight or surrender to men whose comrades they had tortured.

—V—

The broadcasters at Moscow and Berlin are carrying on a little "war" of their own, on comic opera lines. When Moscow said Konev's forces were 66 miles from the German capital, Berlin responded that they were only 57 miles away. Nine miles may not make much difference in practicalities. But it seems odd for Dr. Goebbels to be hurrying the Red army along faster than Stalin claims it is moving.

—V—

The Bonomi government is said to have asked that Italy be given "equal status" as a member of the United Nations, and that the financial terms of the armistice be revised. As Mussolini left the country bankrupt it may not matter much whether the financial demands are cut down or left as they stand. It will be time enough to issue a certificate of full-fledged membership in the Allied line-up when Italian forces are no longer helping the Nazis to kill Allied soldiers on Italian soil.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1895: 50 Years Ago

At a meeting of the South Edmonton Creamery Co. held on Saturday a committee was appointed to look into the question of purchasing the business and plant of the Edmonton Creamery Co.

The grain market is somewhat peculiar at present. There is a large amount of grain on hand, very little is being shipped and very little brought in. Wheat is up to 60 cents at the mill and oats to 30 cents for the best.

D. Ross is buying and packing pork extensively this winter. Mr. Ross is a professor at curing pork and can handle any quantity. To raise enough pork for home consumption and cure it right here is as neat a way of beating the freight rates on grain as can be devised.

The business of reducing the Mounted Police has been actively entered upon, but upon what principle the reductions are being made or to what number it is intended to reduce the force does not appear. All that does appear is that certain men and officers are being wiped off the list, and the stigma of inefficiency thereby attached to them. If dismissals are to be left to the will of the commanding officer—as they evidently are left—favoritism rather than efficiency is the natural result.

1905: 40 Years Ago

Halifax.—In the city the snow is piled 10 feet deep in the streets, sweepers are stalled and must be dug out by gangs of men. Hardly a railway wheel is turning from one end of Nova Scotia to the other.

Calgary.—W. M. Davidson, one of the Calgary delegates, wires from Ottawa that it is "practically admitted" Edmonton will be the capital of the new province.

Washington.—President Roosevelt in a message to Congress announced that the U.S. has seized the customs offices of the Republic of Santo Domingo, and restates the Munroe doctrine as a warning to European powers to not intervene in that island.

Toronto.—Mackenzie and Mann have organized the Atikokan Iron Co., to produce pig iron and steel near Port Arthur.

1915: 30 Years Ago

For the third successive year the Eskimos have brought the provincial senior hockey championship to Edmonton.

London.—Aerial warfare was waged today on the largest scale in history, when British airmen swept over Belgian cities held by the enemy and dropped bombs on Ostend, Bruges and other places.

Ottawa.—The general tariff is being raised seven and one-half per cent.

Chief Lauder of the fire department has resigned.

New York.—A Rockefeller Foundation report says the population of Belgium has fallen by 600,000 since the occupation began.

1925: 20 Years Ago

Ottawa.—The estimates include a $60,000,000 loan to the Canadian National Railways and the government merchant marine.

The Edmonton Auto and Good Roads Association is actively backing the movement for wider farm sleighs. Some opposition is coming from businessmen in smaller towns.

Edmonton and Calgary motor associations will co-operate in placing signs along the Edmonton-Calgary highway, each body putting up signs for half the distance.

1935: 10 Years Ago

A return brought down in the legislature shows that the province owes the Dominion $11,977,000.

Lethbridge.—Thirty-five young men at Blairmore have started a hunger strike because required to go to relief camps.

London.—Hitler's reply to Anglo-French proposals for security proved to be a cordial expression of the Reich's readiness to examine the proposals thoroughly.

Rome.—The first contingent of Italian troops embarked for Somaliland—and perhaps Ethiopia.

Regina.—Premier Gardiner stated that $10,000,000 worth of notes, signed by Saskatchewan farmers for relief in dry years, would be returned to them cancelled. The loans were made jointly by the province and the Dominion.

Results of Crimea Conference are Still Not Clear

Emphasis on Collective Security Has Special Significance

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

From an historical standpoint, the outstanding fact about the Crimea conference is that for the first time in history the fate of "Europe", in the traditional meaning, has been decided without the presence of a single "European" country. The Big Three have established themselves, for the first time, politically, as Europe's arbiters. While asserting for European countries the right and duty of self-government, they also announce the intention of the Big Three to supervise and control governmental processes at least in emergency cases.

Dorothy Thompson

Also of historical moment, is the great role played by the President of the United States. His hand is to be seen in almost every paragraph. This is visible not only in the emphasis implicit everywhere on collective security, as opposed to spheres of influence, but in details regarding Poland, Jugoslavia, and even France.

The United States ambassador, and the British as well as the Russian are to participate in the formation of the government of Poland, according to agreed principles. In Jugoslavia guarantees for democratization have been laid down. And the security of France is not to be left to unilateral French action or French alliances but entrusted to collective policy.

De Gaulle and his followers will not like the procedure which has been followed or the conclusions which have been reached. A week ago Tuesday, de Gaulle, in a radio speech, made what amounted to an ultimatum to the Big Three.

He has received an ultimatum in return. The phraseology is significant. France is invited to participate as a fourth member in the occupation of Germany, "if she should so desire." It is well known that she not only so desires, but that de Gaulle has claimed the right to occupy eventually all western Germany, and has demanded the permanent detachment of the Rhine and Ruhr. "If she should so desire" can therefore only mean "if she accepts participation in the framework created by the Big Three." If not she risks exclusion altogether.

De Gaulle's idea of starting with what he can get and demanding more and more, is forestalled. This explains the silence of the Quai D'Orsay on Tuesday.

At first glance the future status of Germany seems provided for, in detail. More careful study reveals that the most critical German questions are left entirely open.

What has been settled are only problems relating to military occupation. Germany is to be permanently disarmed, de-Nazified, and subject to reparations. But the future of the German state as such is not clarified. Will Germany be dismembered into several states, as advocated by Sumner Welles? Or, will it remain unified?

There is evidence for either outcome. If it were the intention not to dismember the Reich, it would have been well to say so for reasons of psychological warfare. But the reassurances given the Germans carefully avoid any mention of the German state.

"It is not our purpose," says the document, "to destroy the people of Germany. But only when Nazism and militarism have been extirpated will there be hope for a decent life for Germans and a place for them in the comity of nations." Obviously Germans, as individuals, cannot join a comity of nations. Were the German Reich to remain, as a whole, intact, the passage would have read. . . . "Will there be hope for a decent life for Germany and a place for it in the comity of nations?"

On the other hand, the ignoring of De Gaulle's demand for the truncation of Germany in the west, and the form of administration designed for the military occupation of German militate against partition. Originally the plan was to have Germany divided for division into three or four zones, each to be occupied by a separate army responsible only to its own government. That would likely have brought about, de facto, German partition. The Crimea plan puts all occupying armies under a central control commission of all occupying powers, thus centralizing the administration for the whole Reich.

It would therefore seem that the crucial question of the German political future has not been settled but awaits the experience of the Allies in the moment of surrender and during the occupation.

The extent of the compensation to Poland is also left open . . . or, more importantly, re-opened. The Lublin government, with the support of Moscow, hitherto has taken it for granted that Poland would get everything east of the Oder. The Crimea statements promises "substantial accessions of territory in the north and west," but leaves the final frontier question to the peace conference.

Furthermore, the insistence that democratic members of the London Polish government, obviously Mikolajczyk is known to be queasy about taking too much German territory. And if France is not to have the Rhine-Ruhr territory we may find objections from thoughtful Frenchmen.

Large-scale truncation of Germany in the east would press more Germans, not fewer, toward the French frontiers.

That the Crimea document represents important compromises, from all sides, is clear. That may be one reason why De Gaulle, who had announced his unwillingness to compromise, could not be included.

How it works out will depend on action. And, of course, there is much more to analyze than can be undertaken in one column.

In the Infantry

Editor, Bulletin: As I understand it, certain A1 air force men are getting their discharge after two or three years' service in Canada only.

Then if they want it, finish up with a university education and $60 a month besides. There's a big job to be done overseas, according to a statement in the papers, the Canadian Army will need 10,000 reinforcements in 1945.

If they need the men so badly why don't they draft these men who are being discharged from the air force?

World Peace

Editor, Bulletin: We have now been at war for over five years. As time has gone on we have thrown more and more material weapons into the conflict; manpower, munitions, supplies and wealth.

No one with any powers of perception and no one who thinks in any but a superficial fashion can deny that we are experiencing the greatest upheaval the world has ever known.

The point I wish to bring to the fore is this: Although we have marshalled our material resources to the limit, we have, as yet, only scratched the surface of the spiritual aid which is ours for the asking.

The churches hold their services; individuals pray; we occasionally hold a national day of prayer and again occasionally a day of thanksgiving. Yet we organize and plan the use of all our material weapons. Why do we not do that with our prayers?

Reinforcements

Editor, Bulletin: Now we know where King and McNaughton are getting their reinforcements for the Canadian Army.

Seventy-five per cent of this army are from the Old Country, so it seems they are filling up the ranks and not Canadians.

What a dirty cheapskate idea and just like Mr. King. And what a name it gives Canada to take the glory when somebody else does most of the fighting.

Nazi Support

Editor, Bulletin: Dorothy Thompson's articles concerning post-war treatment for Germany are misleading in many ways, but especially so in her repeated assertion that the majority of the German people oppose Nazism. In a letter received from Lord Vansittart, he writes in part:

"Dorothy Thompson says that the highest popular vote that Hitler ever got in any election that could be described as free, was 37%. She admits that the March, 1933, election put the percentage up to 43%. She omits to add that in passing the Ermachtigungsgesetz in the Reichstag (also in March), which conferred the dictatorship on Hitler, the Nationalists and National-Socialists, who were working together, represented 52%. In fact, throughout her article there is no reference to the fact that the Nationalists and National-Socialists in this period must be counted as one, and that both are sheer poison.

"And now for the real point. What on earth did Miss Thompson expect in the 37% period, i.e., the time when there were a number of other parties and when people were still free to abstain when they did not feel like voting at all? In such conditions 37% is an enormous vote.

In 1929 when the British Labor Party won its most sweeping victory, they polled 29%. No one was ever foolish enough to suggest that the Labor Party Government was not representative of the people. When you had allowed for the percentages polled by the other parties (and they were far less numerous than in Germany), and the fact that no constituency on earth has ever been known to get 100% of the electors to the poll, 29% is a very significant figure. We shall probably be having an election in 1945. I don't suppose that any one of the three British parties will poll 37%, certainly not 43%, let 'alone 52%, but no one would argue that the winner will not be representative.

"All this Miss Thompson conveniently ignores because she does not wish to recognize the fact that the Nazis were by far the most powerful and numerous party in the Reich and that they were subsequently joined by almost the entire German left. See what happened in the Reichstag in May, 1933!"

Vital Necessity

Editor, Bulletin: The course of events in the world at the present time indicate clearly that if democracy is to survive without a continual struggle to maintain its existence the closest and warmest respect and collaboration should exist and be maintained between the British Commonwealth and the United States.

When Messrs. Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill met they were confronted with some accomplished facts with which they had no part in bringing about and with which they can have no sympathy.

The Russian puppet government in Poland and the Russian puppet government to rule Germany, composed of German generals who have been prisoners of war in Moscow, are an example of power politics exercised by the most powerful dictatorship the world has yet seen.

Let us then not be human ostriches and ignore or keep silent when great danger threatens.

Roosevelt and Churchill, two outstanding men of the age, should receive our warmest support and gratitude in the difficult times ahead and their critics bury themselves in oblivion.

Radio English

Editor, Bulletin: The radio is a unique boon to humanity. Like Simpson's great discovery, anesthetics, it is now taken for granted. As a teacher, I sometimes think it has an anesthetic influence on the mind. How uncritical we become as we hear the average radio announcer saying "occured" for "occurred," "inflicted" for "afflicted," "indignance" for "indignation"! It's all in the day's fun, as the hunter said when the lion ate him. "They found neither he nor his trousers," said one announcer. "Was that an intentional faux pas?" I inquired. No reply. Had he been a little more or a little less wise, he might have answered. "My forepaws are always intentional."

"Mental Age"

Editor, Bulletin: Lets have an end of this "mental age" business before too many of your readers get wrong ideas. Psychology teaches that at the moment of birth we are each given a certain amount of intelligence. Just as no amount of exercise will make any appreciable difference to our height, no matter what we do (short of sickness), this inherent intelligence cannot be diminished or increased—it depends upon the way we choose our parents and grandparents.

Intelligence, strictly speaking, means "capacity to absorb knowledge." This does not include the various experiences that later enrich the personality. Intelligence develops in the form of a curve starting from zero at birth and rising to its peak in average persons at between 14 and 15 years of age. It then declines very gradually until death. In a few people the development stops at an early age—5 or 6 years; these people are called imbeciles and morons. In others, it does not reach its peak until they are around the age of 18, these are called geniuses.

If a person has a mental age of 14, it means just that; that he can absorb knowledge as easily and readily as can a person of 14 years of age. Actually, when we come to look at it, many of us would give a great deal to be able to learn new things as easily as a high school student.

So the next time you hear of a person having a mental age of 14, don't jump to conclusions. Think of what the term actually means and keep in mind that the person in question is quite normal and has the same degree of intelligence as most of his fellow citizens. It is nothing to be ashamed of because there is nothing he can do about it except to utilize to the best advantage what intelligence he has been given.

"Mandalay"

Editor, Bulletin: Now that our troops are well on the way and within striking distance of Mandalay, for "the love of Pete" let us, when we will be again singing Kipling's good old song, "On the Road to Mandalay," sing it to the good old original melody.

We, of the older generation, loved to "beef it out" on board ships, in the camps, in mines, from end to end of the seven seas, in jungles and at home and abroad. Aye. We loved the dear old song. Then some misguided blighter made a darned "hit parade," Sinatra-like new tune and it was a calamity.

Let's return to our first love and sing it along with the unsullied "Song of the Banjo" and "The Legion Who Never Were Listed."

House Shortage

Editor, Bulletin: I am a home owner formerly interested in helping out in the general housing shortage. I am no longer interested. This is why:

I spent $200.00 installing and partly furnishing a basement suite in my home, especially for a man, his wife, two children 5 and 7 years old and a woman relative. The rooms are 12x15 feet and 12x18 feet—396 square feet of floor space. I rented it, including light, water, gas for heating and cooking and the use of toilet and bath, for $30.00 per month. The woman relative left and later I reduced the rent to $25.00 for that reason.

The tenants complained. The rentals appraiser cut the rent to $18.00 per month. I appealed. The judge said, "No basement suite is worth anything in my opinion." The Judge examined the premises and left the rent at $18.00. This is 60 cents per day for that family or 12 cents per day per person, for shelter, furnishings and all facilities.

Now I want the suite for my daughter and her child. Her husband was a soldier killed overseas. I must give the tenants 6 months' notice to vacate and must repay the difference in rent paid above $18.00 per month.

Perhaps this may explain the housing shortage.

Communism

Editor, Bulletin: In your editorial, "The ELAS," you refer to "some documents" published in London, as "throwing light upon the subject." Presumably you mean the "White Paper" issued by the British government and statements published by members of the Trades Union Congress who recently visited Greece to gain first-hand information on the spot.

Some bloody details of communists' methods have been revealed by the Greek crisis but, revolting though they are, these cruelties are but a pale reflection of those inflicted on their political opponents by the "Red" liberators of Poland, the Baltic States, and the Balkans.

The Greek crisis lifted the veil of lying propaganda behind which communists always work in order to delude the innocent and the naive. Among the deluded may be found many "preachers and teachers," "liberals," and "pinks", the "intelligentsia." The Socialist, CCF leaders, however, immediately and publicly denounced British action in Greece, as reactionary and anti-democratic.

The CCF stand was to be expected from their record. Failure to admit the mistake of their stand when faced with the facts of its injustice is one more proof that their "Red" instincts are stronger than their judgment, than their love of truth, justice, freedom, or even of fair play.

Tax Collections

Editor, Bulletin: I have to pay my taxes every month. The government and my employer between them see to it that I pay as I earn. I get no credit terms. But the government has a different arrangement with my employer about his taxes. He gets 19 months' credit and no interest charged. This situation is the result of the present law governing excess profits tax payments. It provides that an unincorporated company whose fiscal year starts on Feb. 1 and ends on Jan. 31 (as my employer's does) need not pay even the first instalment of its excess profits tax on the profits made during its fiscal year until the September following the close of its fiscal year. Note the sequel: The government pays me 3 per cent interest on such small amounts as I can lend it. But it could get—interest free—50 times as much every year as I can afford to lend merely by putting my employer on the same footing as it has put me. Who says Canada is hard up?

Old Age Pensions

Editor, Bulletin: Those who are opposed to an increase in the sum given to old age pensioners, overlook a very important fact, namely, that many people when forced to discontinue steady employment had money enough laid aside to keep them, if everything had remained at prices then prevailing, but as wages in factories increased, prices of everything produced increased, until now we are paying more than four times as much for many things, as was being paid 50 years ago. Therefore, what many people expected would amply supply their needs during the remainder of their lives soon disappeared because of the very great increase in the cost of living.

Because of the same reason, a large percentage of our people who are clerking in stores and working in offices for a salary under $20 per week, are not able to finance keeping themselves properly clothed, and have enough left to buy food that will properly nourish their bodies.

As for the old age pensions, the minimum sum paid should not be under $40 per month per person.

Monster

ABERDEEN JOURNAL

A sea monster, 25 feet long and weighing a ton, has been washed ashore on Thurso sands.

No expert has been able to identify the creature, which has a long tapering neck and a small head.

The lines of the neck and body are similar to those of a swan.

An angler went fishing in forbidden water. He knew the keeper would be coming along, so he baited his line with a carrot.

Then the keeper came.

"You can't fish here," he said.

"Sorry; I didn't know I was trespassing," the angler replied. "I'm only just amusing myself."

He began to draw in his line. The keeper saw the carrot.

"What's that you're using as bait?" he asked.

"A carrot," said the angler.

"Oh!" The keeper laughed. "You won't do much harm with that!" And he walked off.

Later in the afternoon he returned and saw the angler with a tidy catch of trout.

"You're not going to tell me you caught all those with a carrot?" he asked.

"No," said the angler, "I only caught you with that!"

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

BIDU SAYAO'S appearance at the Empire theatre last night left but one concert in the current season's Celebrity Series sponsored by the Women's Musical Club, namely, that by Genia Nemenoff and Pierre Luboshutz, on Friday, April 6. And while the present series is all but over, plans are well advanced for that of next year. Fred M. Gee, Winnipeg impressario, who was here when Alexander Uninsky made his impressive debut, at present is on his annual pilgrimage to New York, negotiating with managers, and hearing artists in preparation for affixing signatures to contracts which will bring another group of top flight vocalists and instrumentalists this way. He went east in January, and little has been heard of him since. However, one of these days his eagerly anticipated epistolary information on impressions of Broadway and its environs will reach Mrs. Meaden, chief executive of the Celebrity Series on behalf of the Women's Musical Club.

The regular meetings of the Musical Club also are moving toward their inevitable conclusion. After today's meeting only two remain. On March 3 the program will be devoted to music by string orchestra, and at the same time nominations will be filed for positions on the executive. The annual meeting and election of officers will take place on March 17. This wind-up of the season is two or three weeks earlier than usual, but it will be recalled that there was an earlier commencement last October, a desirable feature, as with the arrival of spring and warmer weather, members are anxious to be untrammelled as far as possible.

This city's largest choral organization, the University Choir, has completed plans for its initial public concert, to be given at Convocation Hall, on Thursday and Friday, March 1 and 2. With a membership of 70, the choir is under the direction of Gordon F. Clark, a medical student. The accompanist is Miss Kathleen Sheasby, also a U. of A. student. The program, which will be the same on both nights, is as follows: Now Let All the Heavens Adore Thee, a chorale from the cantata "Sleepers, Wake," by Bach; Farewell to the Forest, Mendelssohn; As Torrents in Summer from the cantata "King Olaf," Elgar; Carol of the Bells (Ukrainian), Lemkovitch-Wilhousky; Come, Blessed Death, Bach; In These Delightful Pleasant Groves, Purcell; a brass quartet composed of W. S. Simpson and N. L. Kjorven, trumpets; D. Culham, trombone, and F. O'Hara, euphonium, will play Hymn to Music, Buck and Quartet, Wagner, arranged by Ord-Hume; Service, Cadman; Mother I Will Have a Husband, Vailtor-Cain, Shortnin' Bread, Woffe; Autumn, Gretchaninoff; The Siesta, Cain; Carry Me 'Long, Easter; Thine is the Greatness, Bortniansky.

Under the baton of Mrs. James B. Carmichael, rehearsals of the Edmonton Civic Opera Society production of "Rose-Marie" are making satisfactory progress, according to authoritative information filtering out from the depths of the Empire theatre. Mrs. Carmichael is beginning to apply pressure to the company as a whole, while Laurier Picard, dramatic director, is intensifying his end of the show. 'Tis whispered that in his capacity as director he is stern and unrelenting with himself in his role of the chief comedian, colloquially known as Hard-Boiled Herman.

The complete cast for the production is: Sergeant Malone, Wreford Johnston; Lady Jane Marie Adkisson, Black Eagle Marwood Brimacombe, Edward Hawley, Orest Denco; Emil Laflamme, Sgt. Al. Kinsfather; Wanda, Isobel Mazer; Hard-Boiled Herman, Laurier Picard; Jim Kenyon, David Oldham; Rose-Marie Laflamme, Shirley Neher; Ethel Brander, Margaret Perry. Mrs. Carmichael stated that orchestra rehearsals would start next Wednesday, and it was expected that a full turnout would be on hand.

At the helm of the San Carlo Opera Company which will play at the Empire theatre March 1, 2 and 3, is Fortune Gallo. Quiet, unassuming and soft-spoken, one has to know him to appreciate the magnitude of his achievement in heading the world's leading touring opera organization. This season, the San Carlo company is making its 33rd cross-continent trip, and the success Mr. Gallo has achieved is the result of his belief that providing acceptable opera for the masses—artistic worth plus prices within the reach of the average music-lover—is both feasible and profitable. Born at Torremaggiore, Italy, he landed in the United States when he was 15 years old, with exactly 12 cents in his pocket. A week later he was working as a celrk in a bank. Twenty-five years later he became a bank director.

About 1900, musical circles began to hear of him. Through a wealthy New York music patron, who took a fancy to him, Gallo was appointed assistant to the director of an Italian band which had come to the United States. Many musicians who later became identified with notable organizations were in that band. Among them was Creatore, noted band leader, and in 1910, Gallo became manager of Creatore's own band.

That year Gallo became infected with the opera bug, and he successfully extricated an opera company from a series of difficulties into which it had fallen. Late in 1911 he organized the Pacific Coast Metropolitan Opera Company. He introduced an innovation by employing singers in cities where the company played, to appear in the chorus and in minor roles. At the other end, he had many famous stars as headliners. One of his notable early feats was to persuade the great Ruggiero Leoncavallo, composer of "Pagliacci," to come over from Italy as guest-conductor. It is a matter of record that this venture lost $10,000.

But Gallo, with a visit to the Antipodes cleared a profit of $25,000, returned to New York, paid his bills, and set out on a 30-week tour of the continent. Thus, in the season of 1912-1913 the San Carlo Opera Company was born. The 1914 season saw the company come to Canada for the first time. That same year he presented Anna Pavlowa and her Ballet Russe, a venture that yielded him $200,000 profit.

He leased the giant Century theatre, facing Central Park in New York, for his season there, and in 1923 he took a company to Cuba with such sterling artists as Martinelli, Schipa, Bori, Bonelli, Ruffo and others. Also he managed a tour of Eleanora Duse, Italian tragedienne. Mr. Gallo seldom travels with his company. He remains at his headquarters high in a building overlooking Broadway. There he carries on his big one-man job. He has no advisory board, no directorate, no long list of patrons or season's subscribers, and no guarantors. But it is also stated that in spite of all this, he has no deficits.

The San Carlo Opera Company and the Gallo English Opera Company always have been favorites here, and with five sure-fire hits selected for performance, the company is assured of receiving a warm welcome when it returns on the first three days of next month.

The following will take part in the young artists' concert to be given at the Public Library at 3 p.m. Sunday under the direction of H. G. Turner: Pianists, Leyla Margolus and Beryl Bisset; vocalists, Shirley MacDonald and Ruth Aberhardt; readings, Marlayne Geibelhause and Robert Perring; trumpet and piano solos, Donald and Marilyn Tupper.

To aid promising young Canadian musicians to obtain a hearing by personal contact with Canadian audiences, a series of concerts sponsored by the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Associations has been established. The federation, having organized branches in every Canadian province, instituted two concert circuits, the Western, covering cities from Victoria, B.C., to Winnipeg and the Eastern, from Ontario to the Atlantic. The selected artists make the tour at the expense of the federation aided by each branch in charge of the concert.

On Monday, March 12, the Edmonton branch of the Music Teachers' Association will sponsor a concert at the Masonic Temple, with Mary Hughes, Calgary pianist, and Shirley Neher, Edmonton soprano, as the soloists. Officials of the federation expressed the opinion that it could be amply demonstrated that there exists in Canada musical talent of a high order which, given the opportunity, could rise to a lofty place in public esteem.

Pearkes Denies Gardiner Charge

VANCOUVER, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, denied yesterday a charge of Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner that men in the Pacific Command had been advised not to enlist voluntarily.

Mr. Gardiner was commenting in Ottawa on the resignation of Gen. Pearkes Thursday as general officer commanding, Pacific Command.

Gen. Pearkes termed the minister's statement "perfectly scandalous", and said, "if the men were advised in that way, I haven't the faintest idea who could have given that advice.

"It would have been directly opposite to the policy we were following.

"We worked most wholeheartedly to persuade the men to go active. Had I known of any man giving that advice (not to volunteer) I would certainly have taken disciplinary action. I don't believe a word of it.

"The records show that my officers and myself went to the men on bended knees to ask the men to go active."

Britain Removes Export Controls

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The board of trade yesterday lifted restrictions on exports of a few products, but emphasized that this did not mean any large quantities would be shipped, as production of some is still controlled and there is a shortage of others.

Under the new order, effective Monday, these goods can be exported without a licence except to a few countries to which all shipments are controlled.

Among the items freed from restrictions are certain types of metal furniture, some musical instruments, including phonographs and parts, metal electric lighting fittings and various plastic articles such as dishes, buttons, buckles and knitting needles and some chemicals.

Doctor Is Found By Search Planes On Arctic Tundra

JUNEAU, Alaska, Feb. 17—(AP)—United States army search planes found Dr. Edward Seinfeld, Office of Indian Affairs physician forced down on an emergency flight to influenza-stricken Point Barrow, after he spent several days on the Arctic tundra and he has recovered from exposure, his office disclosed yesterday.

He finally arrived at Point Barrow six days after leaving Kotzebue, finding seven deaths and the hospital filled, but the situation now is improving. All the hospital nurses were ill.

Julia Grontzeff, a nurse from St. Lawrence island, did heroic work aiding him.

DAILY WAR MAP—EXCLUSIVELY IN THE EDMONTON BULLETIN—The Russians are sweeping across successive river barriers defending the approaches to Dresden. They have reached and probably crossed the upper Queis river. They are reported to have captured Sorau which their armored patrols reached several days ago. The Neisse river is the next important stream ahead of the Soviet forces. It passes through Goerlitz less than 50 miles from Dresden. The Russians retain bridgeheads west of the Oder opposite Berlin. On the map of the eastern front the latest gains are suggested.

2 Enemy U-Boats Definitely Sunk

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 17—(BUP)—Two German U-boats definitely were sunk and possibly two others were destroyed by British naval and air forces escorting an Allied convoy during a recent round trip from Britain to Russia, it was disclosed today.

Two torpedo-carying planes and one reconnaissance plane were shot down and others were damaged.

An admiralty communique said the operations were carried out with the loss of but one British plane.

The convoy escort included ships of the Royal Canadian Navy and naval aircraft.

The admiralty described the German submarine forces as "strong" but said they were unable to interfere with the convoy which reached its destination safely.

McCoy Health Service

To properly understand how the symptoms of diabetes originate it is first necessary to study the pancreas, which is an organ made up of two different kinds of tissue. The first tissue secretes the digestive juices which help to digest food and the second kind of tissue is scattered here and there throughout the gland, being made up of small islands which secrete insulin. Insulin is essential for the metabolism of starch and sugar within the body. This second kind of tissue has been given the name of Islands of Langerhans, or Islets of Langerhans. As long as these islands are healthy, your pancreas will secrete for you the insulin needed to burn up carbohydrate foods.

However, some of the islands may be injured or damaged which means that you will not be able to secrete enough insulin to take care of an excess of starches or sugars. Such a deficiency in insulin will result in the symptoms of diabetes, the symptoms being produced simply because the body no longer metabolizes all of the carbohyrdate used.

After these islands have been damaged, we do not know of any way to restore them. Inasmuch as a cure, strictly speaking, would mean that these cells have been returned to normal, a cure is therefore impossible. However, in the average case of mild diabetes, there are enough of these island cells left so that the patient is able to manufacture enough insulin to take care of a limited amount of starchy and sugar foods.

The chief cause of diabetes is the use of a diet containing an excess of sugars and starches, which foods lead to the placement of an overload on the pancreatic cells, causing them to wear out too soon. Another cause is lack of exercise as exercise would help the body to burn up the excess carbohydrate.

After the island cells are damaged, the carbohydrates are not burned properly, which means that the percentage of blood sugar rises. The kidneys will then throw out some of the excess sugar which will show in the urinalysis.

The treatment used will depend either upon a regulation of diet or upon the use of insulin.

Once the patient starts the insulin treatment, the injection must be continued and beyond any question of a doubt, treatment by means of insulin is more bothersome than the treatment used by those who can get along without the injections. The injection is made subcutaneously and is usually given once each day and sometimes oftener.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Demand Action Against Spain And Argentina

LONDON, Feb. 17—(CP)—The governments of more than 40 countries were urged yesterday by the World Trades Union Congress to crack down economically on Spain and Argentina and "all other Fascist countries which under the presence of neutrality are rendering aid and assistance to our enemies."

The appeal was contained in a resolution submitted to the congress by a special committee made up of representatives from Britain, the United States, Russia, France and China.

Its recommendations were formally accepted by labor delegates from more than 40 countries.

After hitting directly at Spain and Argentina, the report added:

VIGOROUS STEPS

"We further call upon our governments to take prompt and vigorous steps to prevent any neutral nations such as Sweden and Switzerland from supplying Hitler Germany with food and war materials and to exact upon them guarantees against granting asylum to war criminals."

The TUC received a statement from its "peace conference" committee urging that trade union representatives be associated with all phases of the war settlement.

"The employment of German labor, if used in restoration work (in liberated "territories), must be placed under international supervision with trade union participation to determination of labor standards in a way that this will not reduce the standards of other workers," the report said. "Such labor must not be allowed to degenerate into slave labor."

Resolution urged that after the war "through-going remedies be found for the wrongs inflicted on the Jewish people."

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

BENEFITS

How much is my insurance benefit? Workers frequently ask this question. The answer depends on how much you have been contributing. This table shows the approximate amount of weekly benefit.

Class	Employee Contribution	Amount of Benefit if all contributions made in same class for two years: Single	With Dependent
1	12c	$ 4.08	$ 4.80
2	15c	5.10	6.00
3	18c	6.12	7.20
4	21c	7.14	8.40
5	24c	8.16	9.60
6	30c	10.20	12.00
7	36c	12.24	14.40

(Your employer and the Dominion Government also contribute to the fund.)

The actual amount of your weekly benefit is based on THE AVERAGE of the contributions which YOU made within the previous two years multiplied by 34 if you are single, and by 40 if you have a family dependent. For more information, ask your local office.

Church News

United States Religious Groups Plan To Help In Rehabilitation

AT BEULAH.—The Rev. Edward F. Mapstone, pastor of Beulah Tabernacle, who has selected for his Sunday topics: "What Is The Baptism of The Holy Spirit?" and "Passed Redemption Point."

Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish religious groups are pushing practical plans to help returning service men in the United States. Interdenominational conferences are being held on this problem, denominations are creating special commissions to deal with it, and a move is under way to create a veterans' guidance bureau in every Roman Catholic diocese in the country.

Churchmen are seeking a "down to earth" approach to the veteran. This was evident at a recent joint conference of the council of churches, the Salvation Army, the YMCA and the YWCA. It was one of the most comprehensive regional church conferences held to date on veterans' problems.

The conference stressed that laymen in the churches should advise on vocational, educational, and religious problems of returned service men. Moreover, it was proposed that civilians with combat experience in the last war, able to understand the views of present veterans, should be appointed to committees dealing with these problems.

CAUTION ISSUED

Churches were cautioned against creating a permanent service men's group within their membership. For a brief period, it was said, veterans will wish to associate with other service men in groups, but they can be absorbed gradually into the larger, more general church group. Veterans, it was urged should be taken into the activities of the parish program, where they will have opportunity to help in a practical way.

The church, the conference concluded, must be in the forefront of social action, for there will be among the veterans men who have been stirred by world affairs and who will turn to the church for guidance.

Discussion groups considered service men under three classifications—the normal, who need merely the casual ministrations of the church; the physically injured, who must be aided to readjust themselves; and the emotionally disturbed, who will present many problems.

At another church conference, a chaplain discouraged the practice among some clergymen of "acting as psychiatrists" to returning service men.

Maj. William H. McKinley, Protestant chaplain at the U. S. Army Air Forces Redistribution Center, sugested that clergymen should refer their subjects to qualified physchiatrists. The chaplain advised the ministers to prepare themselves to act as directing agents between war veterans and war workers and the various governmental or social agencies which are being set up for their aid. He said ministers should not only learn the problems of veterans, but should keep in close contact with their families.

FAMILY CLASSES

In Memphis, Tenn., a local Episcopal and Presbyterian clergyman are conducting classes for service men's wives on relationships between the wives and their returning husbands. The classes seek to develop mature emotional attitudes among the women to enable them to reconstitute normal family relationship when the husband comes home.

So successful have been the classes that women in attendance have requested that a series of meetings, spaced about 90 days apart, be held until the end of the war.

Meanwhile, a program to aid veterans will be presented to every presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in the USA, in April and will also be submitted at pastors' conferences, laymen's luncheon meetings, training institutes and other gatherings.

The House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church last week approved a proposal for retreats and conferences for spiritual aid of returned service personnel. Clergymen will be trained for this work.

ISSUE PAMPHLETS

A series of informative pamphlets to war veterans will be issued by the National Lutheran Council, it has been decided. Local Lutheran congregations will be urged to assume responsibility for welfare of veterans.

Similar activity is under way within the Roman Catholic Church. The Evangelist, official organ of the Albany, N.Y., diocese, is urging that a veterans' guidance bureau be set up in each diocese.

Jewish congregations in various parts of the country are offering free membership for one year to all honorably discharged veterans to encourage participation of returning men in Synagogue activities.

World Church Council Plans To Be Drafted

Three prominent European churchmen have been invited to visit the United States in May as guests of the American Committee for the World Council of Churches, and a special three-day session of the committee will be held May 17-19 to discuss plans for the first assembly of the world council after the war.

Making the trip here will be Dr. Marc Boegner, president of the French Protestant Federation, and a vice-president of the world council; Dr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft of Geneva, Switzerland, general secretary of the world council, and the Rt. Rev. George Kennedy Allen Bell, Anglican Bishop of Chichester, and member of the council's provisional committee.

According to original plans, subject to revision, some 50 church leaders will meet in Stockholm, Sweden, as soon as possible after military operations cease on the continent, and it is considered likely that this group will select the United States as the site of the first world assembly. The meeting will probably convene for two weeks at Princeton, N. J., or some other community adjacent to New York, it was said by Dr. Henry Smith Leiper, secretary of the American Committee.

TO COVER 83 COUNTRIES

To date, 83 communions, both Protestant and Orthodox, in 83 countries have voted to join the council, and a full delegation to its sessions will total nearly 500 churchmen from all parts of the world.

Another subject of discussion with the European visitors will be the problem of aid to the churches on the continent, which will be channeled through the newly-organized department of relief and reconstruction of the world council.

Dr. Douglas Horton, chairman of the American committee, has estimated that a minimum of $50,000,000 will be needed to reconstruct church life in Europe after the war, and Protestant churches in America will be called upon for both funds and personnel to meet this need.

Pyramids of Egypt Subject of Address

Dr. John Tedder, visiting minister and world traveller, will speak at the Pentecostal Tabernacle, 10047 108 street, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. on the subject, "The Great Pyramid of Egypt and the Bible".

Dr. Tedder has personally visited and studied the pyramid and believes that it contains a message for these times. The minister declares, "We are only at the threshold of the unveiling of the great wonders of the old world."

At the Sunday morning service the speaker will discuss the subject, "Faith, What It Is Not and What It Is."

The Rev. Willard Peirce, pastor of the Tabernacle, has announced that due to public demand, Dr. Tedder will remain in Edmonton until Friday, Feb. 23.

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 20, the visiting speaker has chosen for his topic, "Clouds over Europe" and will answer the questions, "What About the Future of Europe"? and "What Will Russia Do"?

Young People's Activities

Wesley-Robertson Young People celebrated the first anniversary of their union. The Rev. E. J. Thompson was guest speaker.

Metropolitan Young People were entertained by eight of the members in the engineering department of the university. Duncan McCracken was chairman. Don Roberts spoke on the types of engineering and Jack Longworth on the meaning of engineering. A musical program was given in the form of a broadcast in television.

Highlands Young people are planning a sleigh ride. Members are assisting the church choir in a concert.

Norwood Young People are canvassing for renewals to the "United Church Observer." The Rev. E. J. Thompson will be guest speaker.

Any United Church young people who wish to participate in the forthcoming debating contest are asked to contact Irma Underdahl.

HERE TONIGHT.—The Rev. J. D. Carlson, former pastor of Beulah Tabernacle, who will conduct a special "Youth For Christ" service in the Salvation Army Citadel at 8 p.m.

Young People Prove Active At McDonald

By J. BOYCHUK

On Friday night our young people were honored with Rev. Keith Daniels as guest speaker. Members were asked to take note of the public speaking contest on Feb. 26 at Shilo church. Our representatives are Cameron McLeod and Dorothy Bolander, and we are backing them all the way.

Sunday morning topic was "The Christian Soldier's One Indispensable Weapon." The church service was followed by junior and senior Sunday schools, and we are hard at work on our Bible study classes in the senior school, because our first quarter is up and exams will soon be set for us to ponder over.

The pastor's topic for the evening was "Should Christians Keep the Hebrew Sabbath"?

A special meeting was held this evening in regard to the area survey that we are planning to carry out within the next four weeks.

Monday evening the Boy Explorers and Trail Rangers met for their usual evening of fun and study.

On Tuesday evening the CGIT was reminded of securing their tickets for the rally at First Baptist church on Feb. 20 at 7 p.m.

Wednesday night our regular fellowship supper with its usual grand turnout, followed by prayer meeting, and at 8 p.m. the quarterly business meeting was held, the heads of all committees and societies having turned in their reports.

Senior choir practice is held on Wednesday nights after prayer meeting, rather than on Thursday. This is not a permanent arrangement, but for the time being it is working out very well.

Christian Science

"Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science Churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is Psalms 62:1. One of the Scriptural citations is "Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth" (III John 1:2). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "Man is harmonious when governed by Soul" (p. 273).

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By CHAPLAIN NORMAN B. JEROME

I Am a Chaplain; My Country Is at War; I Have a Job to Do!

BASICALLY, my job during this war time is just the same as always. It is to preach the unsearchable riches of the gospel of Jesus Christ to the glory of God. Vindicating the righteousness of God through preaching as it is manifest in Christ is an end in itself. The salvation of souls is the by-product—the visible fruit of our labors.

My experiences as a chaplain in the Army have been confined to a few months in time, but have been so broadened as to include the far horizons of years of a normal pastorate. I have knelt and prayed with men in my office and have seen the light of God's assuring love break over their faces as they have wept and prayed their way to Christ. I wouldn't trade my job for any other. There is nothing so gratifying as to see another man's life straightened out, his sins cleansed, and his desires changed so as to embrace the eternal things of God.

It is a real job to be a chaplain. So much depends on his own initiative—his willingness to spend himself in every conceivable way to win the confidence of the men. It then becomes relatively easy to win their hearts to the Lord.

The chaplain is on the firing line getting the job done. But the prayers of the people back home—the praying folk in the church that was served by the chaplain—it is their faithful prayers that makes the chaplain's job go on more smoothly and with much greater success. The chaplain has a particular and important job to do. Remember, though, he is your representative to your boy and the boys of all the home towns of our great nation. You must support your representative by prayer. Your prayers are essential and vital to the proper accomplishment of the chaplain's job.

Today, I received a letter from a fine Christian boy, one of the leading members of our young people's group. If I could receive one such letter a week I am sure I could work harder and accomplish more.

This young fellow, whom I always called "Chuck," wanted me to know that he and others were praying for me, and they would continue to do so. He wrote about the last sermon I had preached to the congregation before leaving to take up the job of chaplain. He said he remembered the story I had told of a missionary and his family that had gone to Africa. Everything had gone well for a few months. Then everything began to go wrong. They lost what good will they had gained with the natives. Their baby had died, then the wife died, and the man finally returned home broken in spirit and in health. He arrived at his church at prayer meeting time, and sat in the back unnoticed. Many prayers were offered that evening, but not one for the missionary for whom they had faithfully promised to pray.

Christian friends, the chaplain's job is your job, too. Pray for God's strength and wisdom to flow through him. Write him and encourage him to his work by telling him you are "holding the ropes" in prayer.

Not a day goes by but vital decisions must be made. The sin of compromise lurks around every corner. It is essential to be tactful in all dealings. Patience and wisdom are needed to work with and for all types of men with all types of problems. Courage is needed when time drags as well as when there is barely a moment to stop for rest. God's all-sufficient grace must be experienced.

God gives us many saints who are willing to work overtime in the factories of prayer so that our ammunition, the gospel of Jesus Christ, shall be "the power of God unto salvation."

GO TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

HAS GUEST.—The Rev. Richard Schilke, pastor of Central Baptist church, who will have the Rev. G. G. Rauser of Franklin, Calif., as guest speaker on Sunday.

Plan Scholarship

The Royal Alexandra Hospital Alumnae Association scholarship will be awarded again this year.

Graduates of the school wishing to take advantage of the scholarship are asked to send in their applications, to the Scholarship Committee not later than March 15. Applicants will state the type of course they plan on taking.

Indian Missionary Visiting In City

Missionary Ingeborg Aarre arrived in Edmonton last Tuesday after having spent six years in India.

Before leaving Norway for India in 1938, she travelled for three years as an evangelist, visiting churches in all parts of Norway. Miss Aarre received her training in Norway and England. She was sent out by the Zion Church, Stavanger, Norway, and has served for almost seven years under the Norwegian Free Evangelical Mission of Chopda, India.

She has had a wide and interesting experience in working among the Bhil hill tribe. The ever-increasing and untiring efforts put forth by the missionary station is to evangelize Indians, conduct a school for the Indian children, and to operate an orphanage and do medical work.

Miss Aarre will give a missionary talk, dressed in her Indian costume, Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., at the World Evangelistic and Missionary Church, 9974 Jasper avenue. The public is heartily invited to attend.

The missionary will make her home with the Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Rasmussen, 10094 154 street, until she will be able to return to her homeland which is at present occupied by the enemy.

God's Watch

I should not fret too awful much
While you are far across the sea,
Because I know that God will watch,
And keep you safe where e'er you be.

I must not pine too much for you
I know he will supply each need;
I know he'll bring you safely through—
We'll trust in him — he is our Creed!

I often suffer breathlessness
To know you are so far away;
But there's no need for hopelessness,
As long as God's hand leads the way.

Sometimes when I would shed a tear,
He tells me you are in his care—
That he will guard you from all fear,
And stay right with you—Over There!

Anglicans Plan Raise $1,250,000 For Rebuilding

Plans to raise £250,000 in the next seven years toward a proposed one-million pound fund for European church reconstruction were proposed to the assembly of the Church of England at its spring sessions.

It is hoped to raise a substantial proportion of the fund in the next two years to meet urgent needs. Half the total amount will be sought from churches, the balance from religious societies and the general public.

OF GREAT VALUE

Needs for which immediate financial help "would be of great value," according to a report submitted by the Anglican commission on church reconstruction in Europe, are ministerial training, payment of stipends, training of laymen for social work, youth work, repair and rebuilding of churches, and provision of Bible and religious literature for missionary work.

The commission recommended that any help which churches in other countries can offer should go to suffering churches in war-affected countries, to be administered by the governing bodies "as they deem best."

The continental church systems, Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox, the report declared, still survive, "however much weakened on the material side by the events of the war."

House of Laity To Re-Assemble

A resolution to rejuvenate its House of Laity was unanimously adopted at the spring session of the Church of England assembly.

Introduced by Lt. Colonel H. L. Oldham, who declared that the present house has not had an election for ten years, the resolution urged that suitable candidates be sought for elections to take place between Easter and Whit Sunday.

Support for the resolution came from many speakers, including Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen, who said that "if the Anglican church hopes to do its duty, the laity must play a much bigger part than hitherto in the religious revival of this country."

Religious Remarkables ..... By Scheel

Bishop States Family Unit Most Important

Importance of the family as a "divinely instituted agency for the training and discipline of human beings" was stressed by the Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, retiring president of the Federal Council of Churches at its biennial meeting at Pittsburgh recently.

Discussing the functions of the family and the state as "corporate groups responsible for the welfare of the people," Bishop Tucker said that many of our present day problems are due to the decline of family influence.

Since there is no substitute for the family as the "best human agency for developing the young child," he said, "attention should be concentrated on the effort to improve it and to make it more nearly what God intended it to be."

"Society has a responsibility," said Bishop Tucker, "for helping to improve home life and for co-operating with the family in developing the child's potential capacities and in giving it an opportunity to exercise them. Poverty, evil environment, bad housing, and many other physical defects are too often a handicap and sometimes an insuperable barrier to the kind of family life which is essential for the proper upbringing of children."

GOVERNMENT RESPONSIBILITY

Declaring that the primary responsibility of government is to serve the welfare of the governed, Bishop Tucker said:

"This principle has not, of course, always been recognized. Too often the government has been looked upon as the prize of the strongest and its prerogatives have been used to satisfy the governor's lust for power and wealth.

"The functions that should be delegated to government are only those which the individual is not capable of performing himself with due regard to his own interests and to the general welfare.

"In fulfilling their responsibilities both the family and the state need the co-operation of that other corporate agency which we call the church. The church's function, however, is not exhausted in qualifying individuals to fulfill their obligations as members of a family or as citizens of a state. It is also the nursery training school for membership in the Kingdom of God."

French Church To Seek Aid in North America

The Reformed Church in France looks to churches in North America for aid in postwar reconstruction, but will meet normal needs out of its own treasury, Dr. Marc Boegner, president of the French Protestant Federation, said in an interview in Paris.

"I am grateful for all the churches in America are ready to do toward the reconstruction of war-victimized Europe," he said, "but I will defend the principle that normal church expenses must be met out of the church's own funds." Among the expenses which the Reformed Churches will assume, he stated, are additional funds to alleviate the plight of pastors and their families.

NEXT SYNODS

Dr. Boegner announced that the next synods of the sixteen regional divisions of the Reformed Church including North Africa, will meet in February and March, and will consider immediate problems confronting the church.

The French Protestant Federation, he disclosed, has recently set up a reconstruction committee to deal with the problem of destroyed and damaged churches.

"The committee will first examine demands for aid, or finances, either for rebuilding damaged churches or definitely affected religious organizations," he said. "The number of churches and parochial houses destroyed by bombs is great, and many more were damaged, especially in Normandy and the East Rhone valley, where Protestantism is widely established.

"The present situation of the French Protestant churches excludes the possibility of their undertaking large-scale reconstruction out of their own resources, and it is impossible at this moment to anticipate in meeting this need.

"The reconstruction committee accordingly will present its findings to the Department of Reconstruction and Inter-Church Aid of the World Council of Churches, which, in turn, will acquaint churches in America of France's essential needs in this field. Reconstruction naturally means not only rebuilding churches, but providing religious literature for students and pastors, and finding equipment to print theological works."

PASTORS VOLUNTEER

Dr. Boegner revealed that Swiss pastors have volunteered to supplement the small number of French Protestant clergymen, and many are already at work.

The large number of students in the Paris theological seminary, he said, promises to help fill out the depleted ranks of the clergy, although many young men will be called up under the new military mobilization order, and thus will have to defer completion of their courses until the end of the war.

The situation of the religious press in France, according to Dr. Boegner, is likely to become more serious as a result of new restrictions, which have caused even those journals which survived the period of occupation, to suspend publication.

"The attention of the Ministry of Information has constantly been called to this problem," Dr. Boegner stated, "and the National Protestant Council has been asked to make a list of publications considered indispensable should restrictions be relaxed."

He added that although the Ministry has finally granted permission for the launching of a "much needed" Protestant weekly, to be entitled, "Reform," the new restrictions may postpone its appearance. The projected publication, he said, will deal with all aspects of religious life in the nation, political, social, moral, intellectual, and artistic.

ST. ANDREW'S. — The Rev. H. Douglas Stewart, BA, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, who will speak on the subject, "Empty Thrones," on Sunday morning.

Visiting Minister At Central Baptist

The Rev. G. G. Rauser of Franklin, Calif., came to Edmonton a week ago to hold a two-week campaign with the Rev. R. Schilke at Central Baptist Church. It is Mr. Rauser's first visit to Canada.

The meetings during the first week were very well attended and large crowds are anticipated for the coming week. Various choirs of the church, the Christian Training Institute, and the orchestra contributed to the fine singing each night of last week.

For the coming week there will be real treats in store in singing, preaching, and fellowship. The campaign will close Friday, Feb. 23.

A joint resolution has been introduced into Congress by Senator Lucas of Illinois, calling for the appointment of a 12-man commission to establish a national memorial commemorating contributions of members of the various faiths to American military and naval history. To be located in the District of Columbia, the proposed memorial would be the first of its kind.

Heroes

Soldiers and sailors, airmen, brave, the world owes much to you.
Your daring deeds: the suffering borne thrill nations through and through.
You shoulder guns, man ships, or soar to heights beyond compare.
And falter not where danger lurks,
but face it with a prayer.
When Victory's won, you'll homeward come, and honors you will share.
All men are heroes who've been through the fires of this world-war.
Nurses and doctors, rescuers too have risked the cannon's roar.
With glorious acclaim, these Heroes of fame
Will be honored for service and achievement of aim.
—Charlotte Ward.

Father-Son Events In Norwood Church

Two father and son events were held in Norwood United Church last week. A father and son banquet was held, attended by 116 men and boys. A speech of welcome to the dads by Gordon Cameron was responded to by T. Blacklock. A sing-song led by Boris Ogrodnik and piano accordian selectioons by Sgt. Arne Cronlund preceded games on the gym floor.

On Sunday morning the choir loft was filled with boys and dads who led the singing, and Jack Law delivered a challenging address to a crowded church. Men of the congregation have appointed a committee to hold a boys' night once a month.

Norwegian Church Is Munition Depot

The Lutheran church in Borre, Vestfold, has been converted into a munitions depot by German occupation authorities in Norway.

Borre is famous as the burial place of the old Norse Vikings. It has been the custom of puppet Premier Vidkun Quisling to assemble adherents at this "holy ground" each summer.

Danish Clergymen Won't Bury Nazis

Germans in Denmark are finding it practically impossible to obtain a clergyman who is willing to officiate at a Nazi funeral, the Danish Nazi organ "Faederlandet" admitted in a recent issue.

Several clergymen, it said, have also refused to bury Danish Nazis, advancing a wide variety of reasons for their inability to do so. One clergyman said that he could "do what official duty demands, namely, pray and read the rituals, but no more."

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

MAPLE LEAFS and EAC puckmen will pry the lid off the Edmonton end of the junior playdowns at the Arena tonight as they open their two-game total goal series to decide an opponent for the Canadians, leaders during the regular schedule. They play again Monday.

It is understood from Leaf sources that their club will have Dave Ellis, defenceman and Don Robertson, centre, both from the South Side club for the series, the additions coming via the military replacement route.

Paul Proulx, Paul Tymchuk and Mac Letain, the latter a goalie, have been lost by Maple Leafs to the services. "Red" Heron is in the army, but is expected to be available and Bert Pringle returned just recently and has taken part in a few games.

Coach John Colville no doubt is keeping his fingers crossed, hopeful, too, that Bud McPherson will be in "from the north" for the games.

Bill Drever, coach for the EAC squad, will be standing pat with the club which wound up in second place with plenty to spare and which has yet to lose its first start against Leafs this season. Tonight's game will start at 9 o'clock, and both teams will be looking for goals.

COAST JUNIOR THREAT

FRED KERNER, in his Canadian Sport Snapshots, today says that from Vancouver comes warning of a threat to the Memorial Cup hopes of Toronto St. Michael's Majors. John Clark has been coaching an all-star aggregation from Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo, that threatened even the strong Edmonton Canadians. And, adds Clark, the coasters are thinking seriously of entering the Canadian junior series.

Fred also says that south of the border they are toying with the idea of giving three points for a shot made from a distance of 21 or more feet from the basket. And that Jim Thorpe, famed Indian athlete of yesteryear is advocating annual junior Olympic games.

Will Cude, former Canadian goalie is quoted as saying that minor hockey in Canada should be able to fill the needs of amateur and professional hockey in Canada, United States and Europe after the war.

HERE AND THERE . . . .

CANADIANS were taken apart in fine style by the Seattle Ironmen last night and from this distance it looks as if they not only lost the game, but considerable prestige as well.

The Edmonton juniors weren't expected to beat the coast seniors and it was their fourth game in five nights—an ambitious undertaking for any club. But then, 15 are a lot of goals, too.

And speaking of goals, Jimmy King topped the list in that department during the junior league schedule here with a neat total of 19. Next to the Maple Leaf sniper are Jim Slugg, Vince Bannon and Cy Thomas of Canadians and Bob Manson of EAC's —all with 13.

High schools in Toronto are experimenting with hockey minus blue lines, games already having been played in Maple Leaf Gardens without the approved ice decorations. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the new arrangement had possibilities for speeding the game and eliminating whistles. No mention was made as to how offsides (if any) would be taken care of.

Dotten's Pacific Coast Leaguers Score Five Times in Final 10 Minutes

Seattle Seniors Wallop Canadians 15-6

Juniors No Match For The Ironmen

VANCOUVER, Feb. 17. — (CP) — The heavier and faster Seattle Ironmen of the Pacific Coast Hockey League trounced Edmonton Canadians 15-6 in an exhibition hockey game here last night before 2,800 spectators. It was the second loss for the Albertans in a four-game series here.

Canadians were strengthened with the top line from Vancouver Arrows of the Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League due to injured members of their own squad. Hal Somerton, Ken Dougherty and Urchenko were included in the lineup.

Dotten, who currently leads the scoring race in the northern division of the Pacific Coast League, started Seattle's scoring parade in each period. During the game he counted five times and assisted in two others.

Ab Supertein, with two, Ray Spencer, Dougherty, Urchenko and Campbell got the Edmonton goals.

Dotten started the scoring parade shortly after the opening whistle when he beat Murray easily after taking a pass from Coombs. Bentley and Wywrot then counted before Dotten added another. Ray Spencer got the lone marker for Canadians late in the stanza and then Wywrot slammed in another to lead the scoring.

Superstein scored his first of the two goals, seconds after the middle period got under way and Urchenko, Campbell and Dougherty netted the other goals for Canadians in the session, which saw each time drive home four goals.

Dotten scored the opening tally of the last period and then Superstein netted the lone goal for Edmonton. After that it was a runaway race for the Ironmen, who scored most of their goals after ganging attacks that spit the Edmonton defence wide open.

LINEUPS:

Edmonton: Mulloy, Soran, Superstein, Spencer, Dougherty, Urchenko, Galbo, Gaudet, R. Anderson, Hall, Campbell, E. Thomas, C. Thomas, Bannon, Spencer, D. Anderson.

Two Edmonton Skaters Win Events at Winnipeg Meet

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17. — (CP) — United States speed skaters dominated the first night's events of the annual Manitoba championships Friday night, leading all the minor divisions and sharing honors with Winnipeg artists in the intermediate and senior classes.

Betty Fahlin and Gerry Scott, both of Minneapolis, were deadlocked with Betty Michell of Winnipeg, North American intermediate champion, each with 40 points. Miss Fahlin took the 440 race in 43.8 seconds and finished third in the ¾ mile to Betty Mitchell. The time was 2.33.6. Miss Scott was second in both intermediate races.

Peggy Craven of Edmonton won the first heat of the 440 in the junior girls division and came back to take the final in 47.6 seconds, beating out Pat Lawson of Saskatoon who was victor in third heat. Miss Craven and Jane Dokken were tied each with 30 points in this division.

Barbara Robertson of Edmonton won the midget 165-yard final 22.2 seconds placing her in a tie for second place with Doris Panting of Winnipeg, each with 30 points.

Babs Kasting of Edmonton finished third in the first heat of the intermediate girls 440 but failed to place in the final.

Other Edmonton skaters failed to come among the first three in first night's competition.

Changes Approved At Country Club Annual Meeting

Annual general meeting of the Edmonton Golf and Country Club was held in the Macdonald hotel on Friday night and plans for reorganizing the club and improving the course were unanimously approved. President R. H. Driscoll presided.

Directors named at the meeting were Hon. Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing, H. Milton Martin, Neil D. Maclean, W. T. Coleman, W. Sprague, Jack Colburn, V. A. Potter, R. H. Driscoll, H. T. Emery, C. F. Keys, Neil Primrose, J. E. Burger, R. M. Watson, J. W. Auxier, S. Douglas and J. Dower.

Plans for improving the course submitted by Stanley Thompson, prominent Toronto golf architect were adopted and work will proceed just as soon as the season opens up.

An increase of 295 yards in the length of the course will result from the remodelling, the total being raised from the present 6,465 to 6,760 yards.

In the new course there will be four par 5 and five par 3 holes, the balance all being 4's.

The changes suggested will make the entire layout compare favorably with the best courses in the country according to Mr. Thompson.

The new board of officers for the ensuing year, including the president, will be named at an early meeting of the directors.

Annual Bonspiel At Lethbridge Starts Monday

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Feb. 17. — (CP) — Lethbridge's sixth annual "shirt sleeve" bonspiel opens Monday morning with a civic send-off and is scheduled to wind up at the week-end with presentation of prizes.

A total of 70 rinks—29 from Lethbridge and 41 from points in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan are entered in the 'spiel.

Billy Rose of Sedgewick, 1944 grand aggregate winner, is not defending his championship this year.

Play in the 'spiel will be staged on artificial ice and will continue uninterrupted for at least 20 hours each day.

Five main events comprise the 'spiel—the Gas Company and Lethbridge Herald primaries, the Ellison and Eaton secondary events and the Hotelmen's.

Two Edmonton rinks are entered in the 'spiel. They are two from the Royal Curling Club skipped by Lloyd C. McIntyre and Frank J. Wolfe.

Monarchs Continue Unbeaten

Four Western Junior Clubs Still Favored in Playoffs

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Western Canada junior hockey play-offs rolled around this week with Winnipeg Monarchs, Port Arthur Flyers, Moose Jaw Canucks and Edmonton Canadians still favored to clash next month in inter-provincial memorial cup play-offs.

Manitoba's kingpins, the Winnipeg Monarchs, are the only civilian team to go through its schedule undefeated. They opened a best-of-five south division final against Winnipeg Rangers here last night.

In Saskatchewan, Moose Jaw Canucks, who went through the southern Saskatchewan schedule with little opposition, will meet either Regina Commandos in the southern Saskatchewan final beginning next week. Commandos beat Hounds in their best-of-five series 3-2.

Edmonton Canadians, leaders of Edmonton league, moved to Vancouver for a four-game exhibition series. They will tackle either Edmonton Athletic Club or Edmonton Maple Leafs in the Edmonton League final.

The Thunder Bay league hasn't reached the play-offs but Port Arthur Flyers, last year's winners, are out in front with a lead of 2½ games over Port Arthur Navy.

Elsewhere on the junior front play-offs are underway in the Manitoba north division and northern Saskatchewan circuit. Canadian Ukrainian Athletic club defeated St. Boniface Athletics in the first game of a best-of-three Manitoba north semi-final series.

Winner of this series will meet Winnipeg Esquires and the league champion will run up against either Monarchs or Rangers in the Manitoba final.

Saskatoon Navy, whose players are not permitted to enter Memorial Cup play-offs, trimmed Saskatoon Falcons 7-5 in the opener of the northern Saskatchewan semi-finals while Prince Albert Black Hawks downed Saskatoon Varsity 10-4.

No senior leagues, leading to Allan Cup play-offs, operated in western Canada this season.

Junior Playoff Opener Tonight

Opener of the two-game total goal series between Maple Leafs and EAC juniors is scheduled for the Arena tonight and will commence at 9 o'clock. The ultimate winner of this semi-final playoff will meet Canadians for the City Junior Hockey League title.

Maple Leafs will be strengthened for the series by the addition of two South Side players—Dave Ellis, defenceman, and Don Robertson, centre.

Juveniles Start Playoffs Tonight

Semi-final games are set for tonight in both the city juvenile and midget hockey leagues. Maple Leafs meet Edmonton Athletic Club at 119 street rink in a juvenile game starting at 7.15 and Mapleos and EAC (2) tangle at 101 street ice in a midget contest at 7 o'clock.

The EAC squad leads the two-game, total-goal juvenile series, having won the opener 4-0 while the Mapleos hold a one point margin on EAC (2) in the midget semi-finals. The Mapleos took the first of the home and home, total-goal playoff 5-4.

Winner of the juvenile series meets Canadians (2) for the title while the victors of the midget battle play Maple Leafs for the city championship.

Fairbanks Cagers Win at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17.—(CP)—The Squadron E. Invaders, Alaskan Division basketball champions of the United States army air force from Fairbanks, Alaska, whipped a Winnipeg all-star team 66-33 here Friday night for the 24th consecutive victory this season.

The undefeated Americans from Ladd Field were led by Bill Keller with 24 points and Sgt. Bob Lewis with 12 points.

Annual Curling Meeting Sunday

Ted Christy to Meet Lee Grable On Monday Night

Ted Christy, ex-movie mat man from Hollywood, will be back at the Empire theatre on Monday night, his opponent this time being Lee Grable of Los Angeles. The first of three preliminaries will start at 8.30.

Christy was awarded the decision over Chief Thunderbird, even although he did lose three teeth in their exhibition of modified mayhem at the Empire a few weeks ago.

Maurice De Blieck has been matched with "Indian Joe" Jacobs for one of the preliminaries, the other two being Emil Van Velzen versus Bob Burley.

Danny Bartfield Takes a Decision

King Tops Junior Goal-Getters

Jim Slugg Takes Scoring Title

PLAYING his first season in the Edmonton Junior Hockey League, Jim Slugg, fast skating centre ice star of the first place Canadians, captured the scoring crown for the 1944-45 campaign by winding up his point-getting activities with a total of 30.

Slugg topped the assist column with a total of 17 points on passes and had 13 goals to edge out Edmonton Athletic Club's Bobby Manson, who finished second with 27, 13 goals and 14 assists.

Leading goal-getter for the season was Jimmy King, leader of the scoring parade early in the year. The fast-moving Maple Leaf centre baffled opposing goaltenders on 19 occasions. He fired five more than his nearest rivals.

Both Manson and King will be in action at the Arena tonight when Maple Leafs and EAC clash in the first of the two-game semi-finals.

King's 19 goals along with five assists gave him a third place tie with Canadians' Vince Bannon, another leader for part of the season. Both had 24 points.

Next in line came EAC's Don Benkie with 21 and Maple Leafs' Mike Thomas and John Duffield of EAC with 18 each.

Bad man of the league this season was Bill Gadsby, Canadian defenceman who spent a total of 38 minutes in the cooler.

Bobby Ruffin Says He Has Retired

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. — (AP) — Lightweight boxer Bobby Ruffin told sportswriters at the Madison Square Garden last night that he had retired from the ring. He did not give any reason and ringsiders were not inclined to take him seriously.

Promoter Mike Jacobs announced that the Ruffin-Chalky Wright fight scheduled for March 30 was "out."

Ruffin's last fight was on Feb 9 when he took a 10-round decision from Johnny Greco of Montreal.

Committee Won't Be Rushed Into Making Selection

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The major league committee sifting the field for a successor to the late K. M. Landis as baseball commissioner won't be rushed in its task, despite prodding by impatient eastern magnates.

P. K. Wrigley of Chicago Cubs, member of the four-man, all-western joint committee of the American and National Leagues, was plainly irked Friday by some sharp needling of his group credited to Horace Stoneham of the Giants and Branch Rickey of the Dodgers.

"If those fellows wants my job, they can have it," Wrigley asserted. "Since the committee was announced I've received a ton of mail —applications for the job."

Stoneham was reported to have demanded: "What is the committee doing? They ought to be able to make up their minds by this time. They've been at it 10 days." Rickey said he shared Stoneham's impatience.

Monarchs Take First of Series

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Winnipeg Monarchs, Manitoba's undefeated junior hockey team, defeated Winnipeg Rangers 4-3 in overtime last night to take a game lead in the best-of-five south division finals.

Dune Daniels scored in the last 30 seconds of play for Monarchs to force overtime and Al Buchanan got the winning counter at 7:19 in the extra session. Earlier Don McRae and Clint Albright netted for Monarchs while Arni Coleman punched in two for Rangers and Clare Parker one.

Pats Finish in First Place In Girls' Basketball League

Army and Navy Pats, Edmonton's hopes in the western Canada cage play-offs, wound up in first place of the City Girls' Basketball League Friday night when they whipped Y. Bees 42-9 in the first game at McDougall school gym. The Y. Aces cinched second place by turning back University 48-19 in the second contest.

Margaret Hembling and Connie Strachan paced the Pats to victory, Margaret dropping in an even dozen points and Connie counting 11. May Spence with nine points, Edith Skitch and Laura Scott with four each and Denize Callaway with two were the other Pat hoopsters.

Eileen Schuster, Bea McCready and Kay Heim collected the Bees' nine points.

Pats took a 13-4 lead in the first quarter and never yielded it. They increased their margin to 29-6 by half time and were out in front 36-9 at the three-quarter mark. The winners then out-counted the Bees 6-0 in the last.

In the other game, Frances Gordon and Ethel Yule turned in outstanding efforts to lead the Aces to victory by scoring 30 of the 48 points. Frances dropped in a total of 18 and Ethel came up with 12.

Vera Hole was top point-getter for the Varsity cagers with eight.

Playoffs in the league are set to start next Thursday.

Following are the lineups:

Pats: Dann, Scott (4), Strachan (11), Spence (9), Hembling (12), D. Callaway (2), Skitch (4), Limming, Schwarz. Total, 42.

Y. Bees: Heim (2), Cox, Cragg, Schuster (4), McCready (3), Wilson, McCallum. Total, 9.

Y. Aces: Yule (12), Forbes (4), McKillop (8), Miller (4), Gordon (18), Fricker (2). Total, 48.

Varsity: Calsgreve (5), Hole (8), Kryn, Jones, S. Callaway (6), Dunlop, Stanley, Moll. Total, 19.

Kiwanis Curlers In Calgary Today

The annual competition for the Traunweiser curling challenge trophy, put up for competition among Kiwanis Clubs of Alberta, is being contested in Calgary today.

The Edmonton Club, present holders of the trophy, are being represented in the Southern City Laughlin, Herbert Marsden, Willby a rink comprising George Mcliam Forster and Douglas B. Jones. Lorne MacQuarrie, chairman of the sports committee will accompany the rink.

Also in the Kiwanis bonspiel are curlers from Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary and Wetaskiwin.

Quick Kayo

WORCESTER, Mass., Feb. 17. — (AP)—Al (Bummy) Davis, 151½, of New York knocked out Roger Marquette, 159, Montreal last night in two minutes and 22 seconds of the first round of their scheduled 10-round bout.

Sunland Remains In First-Place Of Pee Wee Loop

Sunland continued to top the Edmonton Athletic Club Pee Wee Hockey League Friday night by gaining a 1-1 draw with the fourth place Fairways in the final contest of last night's triple-header at the Arena. Krafts tied Smithbilts 1-1 in the first clash and Allards (Leckie's) turned in a 3-1 victory over Arrows to move out of the cellar.

K. Smith took a pass from D. Perry for Sunland's only marker and then D. Johnson tied the game up on an assist from D. Kilburn.

Parker netted for Krafts and E. Mayford banged in one for Smithbilts in the other 1-1 draw. T. Melnychuk paced the Allards, who registered the only win of the night, with two goals and B. Kanuka collected the other one. E. Thomas fired the lone Arrows counter on a pass from C. James.

Herb Shires refereed.

Snead Sets Pace With 6 Under Par

GULFPORT, Miss., Feb. 17. — (AP) — Sammy Snead from Hot Springs, Va., got back into his championship stride by shooting the first round of the $5,000 Gulfport open course in six-under-par 65 Friday under a clouded and fog-draped course.

Snead, who won three of the first seven PGA-sponsored winter tournaments before retiring temporarily to rest an ailing back, tied the course record set by Jim Wilson, course pro, in 1923 and equalled by the same Wilson in 1937.

A single minnesweeper contains enough lumber to build 20 average civilian homes.

Two Title Bouts Will Be Staged Within 50 Days

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. — (AP) — Boxing fans Friday were assured of two title scraps within 50 days when Juan Zurita, NBA lightweight king, agreed to meet Ike Williams, dusky Trenton, N.J., challenger, April 9 in Philadelphia.

Only minor details remain to be ironed out before contracts are signed today.

Almost overlooked in the reshuffling of Madison Square Garden dates was Monday's duel between champion Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn. and Phil Terranova of New York for the featherweight title. It will be the first title fight of 1945.

Aces, Cataracts Would Continue

MONTREAL, Feb. 17. — (CP) — President Frank Sargent of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association announced Friday night that only two Quebec teams expressed the hope to fulfill Allan Cup playoff obligations in the west if they won the provincial championship.

Mr. Sargent, who made the announcement after he attended a Quebec Amateur Hockey Association meeting, said the two clubs were the Quebec Aces in the Quebec Senior Hockey League, and the Shawinigan Falls Cataracts in the Inter-provincial Hockey League. Montreal Royals now are leading in the QSHL standings while Valleyfield Braves top the IPHL circuit.

CATERPILLAR CLUB GROWS

LONDON. — (CP) — The war has made the Caterpillar Club, once one of the most exclusive in the world, into a body with 14,000 members. Most of the members are servicemen who have parachuted from disabled planes, and 6,000 of them are prisoners.

Commandos Will Meet Moose Jaw For League Title

REGINA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Regina Commandos won the semi-final round of the Southern Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League title hunt when they took Notre Dame Hounds 2-0 here Friday night in the fifth and final game of their series.

Commandos meet Moose Jaw Canucks Tuesday at Moose Jaw in a four-of-seven series for the southern crown.

The Fairburn-Klassen-Patex line figured in both Commando goals, Jimmy Fairburn setting up Jake Klassen for the opening goal in the first period and Billy Pates for the second counter in the second.

Al Greenaway's goaltending in the Commando's nets robbed Hounds of at least four counters.

IRISH GETS PRIORITY

TRALEE, Eire. — (CP) — Judge Barra O'Briain said that in County Kerry there is a considerable area in which Irish is the common language and he would give priority in any case in which witnesses were prepared to give evidence in that tongue.

WAR VETERANS Questions and Answers DEPARTMENT

Materials in today's Veterans' Department may clear up confusion dealing with Rehabilitation Credit.

It has been indeed pleasing for The Edmonton Bulletin to know that this department is meeting with enthusiastic endorsation from war veterans and their dependents in all parts of the province.

Again we remind all of those with questions about the various phases of rehabilitation to communicate with the editor of this department. Letters should be brief and should be in early each week. Names and addresses must be with each letter although initials only will be used where requested.

War veterans and dependents of war veterans this is your department. Make full use of it to clear up confusion you have about rehabilitation benefits—Editor.

QUESTION

Dear Sir: I served in the Canadian Army overseas and in Canada. I have about $500 in Re-Establishment Credit coming. If I used all or part of this to purchase household furnishings would I still be eligible for obtaining a small holding?

Your Sincerely,
A. C. S.,
Camp 550, Edmonton.

ANSWER

As Re-Establishment Credit administration is not as yet in full operation we advise you to go into the matter more fully with the Veterans Welfare Officer in Edmonton. He is W. R. McLaren and has offices at 10019-101A avenue.

Here are the general terms concerning Re-Establishment Credit for your guidance:

The re-establishment credit is primarily for those members of the forces who do not elect to take educational, vocational or technical training or benefits under the Veterans' Land Act. This credit is the equivalent of the basic gratuity referred to in Para 112 i.e., is calculated on the basis of $7.50 for each 30 days service in the Western Hemisphere and $15.00 for each 30 days service overseas or in the Aleutian Islands.

This credit may be used at any time within a period of 10 years for the following purposes:

(i) The acquisition of a home, to an amount not exceeding 2/3 of the equity as determined under the act;

(ii) The repair or modernization of his home, if owned by him;

(iii) the purchase of furniture and household equipment for his domestic use, to an amount not exceeding 2/3 of the cost;

(iv) working capital for his profession or business;

(v) the purchase of tools, instruments or equipment for his trade, profession or business;

(vi) the purchase of a business, to an amount not exceeding 2/3 of the equity fund required for the purpose;

(vii) payment of premiums under any insurance scheme established by the Government of Canada;

(viii) the purchase of special equipment required for educational or vocational training;

(ix) any other purpose authorized by the Governor-in-Council.

If a man has elected to take educational, vocational or technical training benefits or benefits under the Veterans' Land Act, and these benefits are less than the amount of the Re-Establishment Credit applicable to him the difference may be made available for any of the purposes specified. If, on the other hand, the Re-Establishment Credit has been used wholly or in part and later an application is made for educational, vocational or technical training benefits or benefits under the Veterans' Land Act, such benefits may be granted, but a compensating adjustment must be made in an amount equivalent to the credit already received.

The Act comes into force Jan. 1, 1945 or, by proclamation, on a date between Oct. 1, 1944 and Jan. 1, 1945.

QUESTION

Dear Sir: Four of us serving in the forces would like to start in partnership after we are discharged. Do you think we could pool our rehabilitation credit for setting up a business?

ANSWER

This is a technicality and one of many that will likely arise in connection with the administration of the various acts in connection with rehabilitation. Of course there would be nothing to prevent each party drawing the re-establishment credit due him and pooling it for one enterprise. We think though you plan something that all four would need to do as a joint undertaking with the credit in one lump sum.

Until Re-Establishment Credit offices have been set up here we would advise you to obtain an opinion on this matter from the general office of the assistant district administrator of the Department of Veterans Affairs at the University Hospital.

Defence Groups In Some Areas Can Carry On

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Canada's civil defence committee is definitely disbanded insofar as the federal government is concerned. But organizations in some localities may remain in operation of their own accord, it was learned authoritatively yesterday.

Announcement that the committee was disbanded came through the current issue of the civil defence bulletin, a monthly tabloid which carried a statement over the signature of Brig. Alex. Ross, director of civil defence.

Brig. Ross, who has returned to his peace-time job as a judge in Saskatchewan courts, said in his statement that the committee was being disbanded because the threat of enemy attack on Canada now was considered slight.

Air Traffic

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Number of revenue passengers transported by civil air carriers during 1943 increased to 502,267 from 213,702 in the preceding year, while revenue passenger miles advanced to 100,550,892 from 70,554,377, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

U.K. May Ban Advertising By Billboard

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Billboard advertising may be banned in Britain in a government move to ensure that a countryside improved by post-war replanning and reconstruction is not marred by unsightly commercialism.

Lord Woolton, reconstruction minister, urged in the House of Lords that advertisers get together and themselves decide what action should be taken.

"If their proposals are insufficient I should be a party to resorting to further legislation," he said. He could not promise legislation in this parliament (a general election is expected this year), but he said full use was not being made of existing regulations for curbing outdoor advertising.

TWO MEASURES

Two measures have been on the statute books for some years. In 1925 the Advertisement Regulation Act was passed to protect landscapes and urban sites of special importance. In 1932 the Town and Country Planning Act empowered municipalities to exclude advertisements from any scheduled area.

Neither of these measures has been thoroughly enforced. In built-up areas particularly huge advertising signs are plastered on walls of buildings or beside the highways. Even rural districts have not escaped since in peace-time there is heavy motor traffic between nearby towns.

The Lords debate was opened by Lord Mottistone, who commanded the Canadian Cavalry Brigade during the First Great War. "It is not only a few highbrow, artistic enthusiasts who want to see the countryside kept clear of these advertisements," he said. "It is the whole mass of the people."

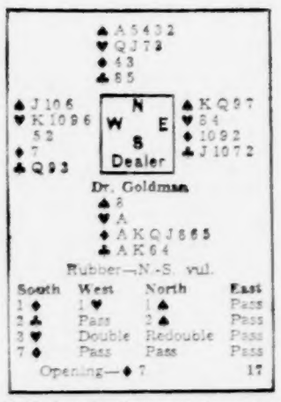

Wallace's Pathway To Cabinet Opened

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace's rocky pathway into the Roosevelt cabinet was smoothed yesterday when the house of representatives passed legislation divorcing the commerce department from the reconstruction finance corporation. The bill, which opens the way for Mr. Wallace to become secretary of commerce without the vast lending powers wielded by ousted secretary Jess Jones, now goes to the White House.

decided right then and there that his luck had changed. That is why he jumped right into seven diamonds. However, I think you will admit that he played the hand very well to make the contract.

He won the opening lead with the jack of diamonds, cashed the ace and king of clubs and ruffed a small club with the four of diamonds. He then came back to his hand with the ace of hearts and ran off the balance of his diamonds. When he led his last diamond, he had in his hand the eight of spades and the six of clubs. West had the jack and ten of spades and the king of hearts. He could not throw the king of hearts and establish dummy's queen so he let go the ten of spades.

Now look at East's predicament. He had the jack of clubs and the king and queen of spades. If he let go the jack of clubs, the Doctor's six spot would be good so he let go the queen of spades.

The Doctor, in the meantime, had thrown away the queen of hearts and now won the last two tricks with the ace and five of spades in dummy.

Alberta Wartime Output Featured

The outstanding record of wartime production which has been achieved by the agricultural and industrial people of this province, is the timely theme of a series of informative advertisements to be presented by Calgary Brewing & Malting Co. Ltd.

The series, produced under the direction of J. B. Cross, president of the Calgary firm, is designed to provide factual information on the yearly wartime increases in the major industries, and to impress upon our citizens the fact that Alberta people can well be proud of their contribution to the nation's war effort.

The 1939 to 1944 production figures on coal, grain, livestock, petroleum, poultry, dairy products and electrical power, will be featured separately in seven consecutive productions appearing in this paper during the next two months. All information and figures contained in the series were supplied with the kind co-operation of the statistical department of the provincial government, under the supervision of H. P. Brownlee.

As an added feature, and to provide a more lasting record of Alberta's accomplishments, Mr. Cross is planning to have the entire series reprinted in booklet form. This publication will be available to the public, free of charge, at the conclusion of the series. Those who wish to have a copy, for future reference, are advised to send in their names to Calgary Brewing and Malting Co., Ltd., Calgary.

Voting Age of 18 For Ontario Urged In House Report

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Broadening of voting regulations for transients and consideration of reducing the minimum voting age from 21 to 18 years were recommended in a select committee report tabled in the Ontario legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Leslie Blackwell.

Recommendations of the committee, which has been considering revision of the Active Service Election Act, the Voters' List Act and the Election Act, will be presented in bills during the session. The new Active Service Election Act, providing the direct ballot for Ontario servicemen in place of the proxy vote, was given first reading when the session opened Thursday.

Amphibious Force Unscathed In Sailing Past Corregidor

By JIM HUTCHESON

ABOARD BATAAN ATTACK FORCE FLAGSHIP—(Delayed)—(AP)—A strong American amphibious force sailed unscathed past formidable Corregidor fortress and landed near Mariveles at the southern tip of Bataan peninsula.

It was the first blow to open the entrance to Manila bay and put a clamp on the Japanese in Central Bataan.

While the landing was made against light opposition, American naval and air bombardment kept enemy guns of nearby Corregidor silent except for a half dozen shots which sent up geysers around the small landing craft and sent them scurrying toward the beach in zigzags.

MOVE INLAND

Infantry swiftly pushed inland from a 500-yard-wide beachhead, bombed and shell-smashed Mariveles was occupied almost immediately and the troops pushed ahead to small airstrips within a few minutes.

The only enemy fire was from light weapons near the airstrip.

The airstrip was pocked with trenches and other defensive positions but there was no resistance from them.

Mariveles is best known as the main jump-off port between Bataan and Corregidor when the Japanese were pressing toward the conquest of both three years ago.

The American convoy had to sail through a gap a little more than four miles wide between the rock and Cochinos Point on Bataan.

Minister of Navy Not in "Conflict" With McNaughton

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Navy Minister Macdonald indicated here yesterday that there was no actual conflict between himself and Defence Minister McNaughton on the General's Jan. 24 Grey North campaign speech statement that ships were being torpedoed day by day in the North Atlantic.

Replying to a reporter's question, Mr. Macdonald said that "such phrases as day by day or every day are often used in a figurative way to denote numbers."

He said he doubted whether "too literal a meaning should be attached to such statements, made extemporaneously." He added that some ships had been sunk shortly before the General made the statement but ships "certainly" had not been torpedoed every day.

Paving Projects Are Authorized By City Council

City council at a special meeting Friday gave unanimous approval to the city commissioners' recommendation that paving projects totalling approximately $600,000 be undertaken this year. Call for tenders on the projects will be advertised on Saturday, returnable on March 8 next and it is expected that the work will be started about April 1 and completed by mid-October.

The total cost of the projects will be $600,000, of which $200,000 will be charged to local improvements and the street railway system and by-passes $381,000 will become a charge on the city at large and will be charged to the construction account.

PLAN TWO GROUPS

It is proposed to call for tenders on two groups of contracts and aldermen expressed the opinion that they should be placed from ... on separate school ... and extend the entire paving ...

One ... the chief projects is the ... on the Highlands route for ... bus operation. The ... recommending ... and ... Jasper avenue and ... 82 street along 82 street to 101 avenue and along 112 avenue from 82 street to 79 street. From ... on the avenue new pavement ... be necessary to the ... ions of the lane at 61 street.

The second major project is the paving of the road leading from the foot of MacDougall Hill across the low level bridge to Saskatchewan Drive and 109 street.

In connection with this project Ald. Fred J. Mitchell said that decision on the construction of the High Level bridge to trolley bus operation should be made before work on the project started.

Other aldermen were of the opinion that this paving project should be proceeded with irrespective of the high level trolley bus operation.

Two-War Veteran Found Battle Of Rehabilitation Simplified

By JACK DeLONG

At 3:45 p.m., of an afternoon in September of 1939, Teacher Dave Petrie received a telephone "order" from the Prince of Wales Armory. A stern voice on the other end of the line spoke thusly: "This is Lt.-Col. Stillman speaking. I want you up here right away to take command of your company."

"But, may I wait to dismiss the class at 4 o'clock? It's only 15 minutes," queried the somewhat flustered Petrie. "I said right now. That's an order," the voice replied.

And that was how Mai. David A. Petrie, went off to war for the second time in his life.

Now he's back again in his old position as vice principal of Westmount School after more than five years in the army in The Second World War.

NOT SO HARD

To Maj. Petrie the battle of readjustment didn't seem so hard.

"I came back to the same job, the same school and even the same room," he said recently.

With a younger man the battle of readjustment would probably have been more difficult, but this is the second time that Mr. Petrie has been through the readjustment mill.

THE QUESTION

What do you think of the city's $600,000 paving program?

THE ANSWERS

HARRY WHITE, clerk: The conversion of the Highlands route to trolley bus service will meet with general approval, and the repaving of this route should be a blessing to the many motorists living in the district, if and when they get sufficient gasoline and tires to make full use of their cars.

FRED JENNINGS, carpenter: I am glad that the route across the river valley from McDougall Hill to Saskatchewan Drive and 109 street is to be undertaken. This is a project that has been too long coming. It is necessary to have an auto link between the north and south parts of the city and to provide traffic from other districts.

WILLIAM THOMAS, miner: The opening of the avenue between 101 street and 97 street along 105 avenue is a project that is long overdue. I suppose the completion of the Highlands route and the operation of the trolley buses there will be the next step. I would like to see the sidewalks cleared and people be encouraged to use them instead of the street, as they do.

Some of the worst weather man has ever braved has been in tropical places right on the Equator or nearby. A party once froze to death on Mount Kenya on the Equator in East Africa. Explorers of mountains in the tropics wear helmets and dark sunglasses to protect themselves from sunstroke and heavy woolen clothes to save themselves from freezing to death. Lightning is sometimes encountered along with heavy thunder in blinding snowstorms on tropical mountains.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

None of us can remember the difficulties which faced us when we began to speak. Usually as parents we are so impressed with the speed at which children acquire a vocabulary that we give little thought to these same difficulties. Yet each child has a host of desires which he cannot readily translate into words, the rest of the time he must piece out with gestures, or wails, which become language perfectly recognizable to us.

Somewhere between the second and third years the difficulties may become noticeable. Up to this time the child may have used two or three words in a sentence and then suddenly, without preliminary, he begins to stammer. Whether this be due to a sort of stage fright, or to dearth of actual words to express his needs or ideas, or to natural lag in the acquisition of this new tool of learning, is not easy to say.

Perhaps it is a little of all three. What is clear is that for no apparent reason the small child doesn't speak smoothly. He halts annoyingly at the beginning of his sentences riding an ah-ah-ah until the family is distraught, or he divides words in the middle and strings them along endlessly.

This sudden inability to speak without stammering does not mean, necessarily, that the child will be a chronic stammerer. It does mean that for the present the mother should be most careful not to impress her child with the significance of his new habit, and if possible, to that end, she should pretend to ignore it.

When he begins to speak, wait quietly until he has finished what he has to say, turning your eyes elsewhere so that any emotional agitation he may be suffering may be minimized.

In a week or several weeks the mother will notice that the child [illegible] before she realizes it the stammering should be forgotten.

Unless this habit continues for months, in which case it cannot or should not be ignored, most mothers will discover that their children's stammering is both of sudden appearance and disappearance.

Our leaflet "The Stammering Child" offers some [illegible] for dealing with temporary, not chronic cases. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of this newspaper.

BIG CLOVE INDUSTRY

ZANZIBAR.—(CP)—The Clove Growers' Association in a brochure telling the story of cloves, says that Zanzibar is now virtually the only place in the world the prosperity of which depends primarily on the clove industry. Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

AW, PSHAW, BUTCH STILL HAS THE CROUP

When I was an honest doctor in Penn Yan one could count on a fair number of night calls to treat the croup throughout the fall, winter and early spring, and each autumn a number of cases of typhoid fever which, at a dollar a visit, [illegible] that typhoid fever has become almost as rare as smallpox in Penn Yan or any other [illegible] intelligent people. But I also know, now, that I can't [illegible] confidently of the [illegible] spasmodic croup. I ventured to express that idea here a year ago, inferring that spasmodic, catarrhal or simple croup must be pretty rare nowadays because, whereas I formerly received frequent requests for advice about it in recent years there had been remarkably few requests for information or advice about croup. That brought [illegible] ate replies from several mothers who assured me their children have croup—naturally, these mothers did not ask for my advice, since I had betrayed my ignorance by saying that perhaps modern improved diet, nutrition, ventilation and even intelligence in parents explained why modern children do not have croup.

Now comes Mrs. L. P., who says her son Butch has croup every little while, although none of her other six children has ever had any [illegible] Butch may mean well, but nevertheless he puts Ol' Doc Brady in a quandary. Unless Butch has been pampered and coddled more than the other kids or perhaps stunted on some essential of nutrition such as calcium. In milk, cheese, greens etc. I wonder the other kids received adequate amounts. I give up.

Mulling it over again—I confess Butch's case intrigues me like a tough crossword puzzle or an Eden Phillpotts mystery story—I wonder whether for some reason Butch may not have received less vitamin [illegible] cream, butter, egg yolk or in fish liver oil or some vitamin D concentrate. [illegible] lar diet or enough sunshine or [illegible] Incidentally he gets vitamin D.

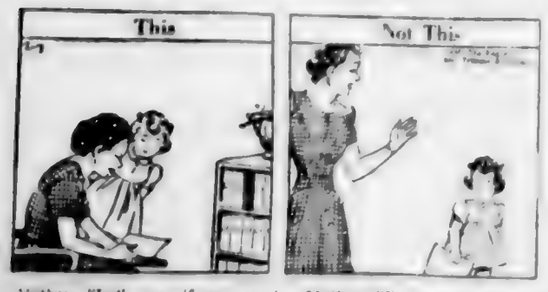

Finally it may be that due to some change in the heating system or in the [illegible] who control the air conditioning in the home, Butch has been exposed to more Saharan-like atmosphere than the other kids had to cope with. I believe excessive dryness in the winter time is a contributing cause of respiratory infections and croup is usually precipitated [illegible] susceptible child, by an otherwise mild respiratory infection. ("cold" to you, stupid!)

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Parents Responsible For Moulding Minds

Pampering Makes Youngsters Self-Pitiers; Bad Tendencies Flourish Under Blame; Early Training Marks for Life

Every mother knows that if, when little Johnny falls and bumps his nose, she runs to him and gathers him up in her arms and "poor darlings" him and says "did the mean old floor hurt my precious angel?" that he will shriek bloody murder; while, on the other hand, if she lets him pick himself up and says "Johnny is a brave boy. He doesn't cry when he gets a bump, he laughs," that the youngster will bite back his tears and strut around showing how he can take it.

For children instinctively try to live up to their reputations, and the surest way to develop any quality in a child is to keep the spotlight turned on it and make him conscious of it. And this is particularly true of bad tendencies, which flourish under blame. Let a boy get a name for being tough, and a girl for being wild, and they think that they must be hoodlums and break the laws and defy the decencies of society just to show how hard and reckless they are.

NOT HELPLESS

It seems to me that in not recognizing this impulse that children have to be what is expected of them, that we are making our great mistake in dealing with the younger generation. For we have taught them to be self-pitiers; that they are the helpless victims of the mistakes of their forefathers and that they suffer from some peculiar neurosis that makes it impossible for them to work and strive and be the decent women and men that their mothers and fathers were.

The most mischievous phrase that has ever been invented is calling the youth of today "a lost generation," because it is a blanket excuse with which millions of girls have alibied their immorality and millions of boys have justified their sitting down on the do-nothing stool. There has never been any lost generation. People of courage and stamina and vision have always known where they were.

Our forefathers, who hewed an empire out of a wilderness, didn't have an easy job of it, but they never thought of blaming those who went before them for not having landscaped the forest and built country clubs and golf links for them. They didn't wail over being misunderstood. They knew themselves and the strength that was in them. They were not bewildered and frightened of life. They saw their goal and worked towards it. They didn't expect their lives to be soft-padded. They thanked God for the strength and courage to meet whatever came and made the most of their opportunities.

We didn't have juvenile delinquency and our police courts were not filled with boys and girls in the days when the older generation expected the younger generation to stand on their own feet and take whatever came without whining. It is only since we have taught our children to be sorry for themselves that they have become softies. Perhaps the war will cure that.

War Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Here are two desserts which require a minimum of butter or table fat and very little sugar. They are part of a wartime collection of recipes by famous chefs.

BAKED INDIAN PUDDING

(Serves 4)

Three cups milk, 6 tablespoons molasses, ⅓ cup sugar, ⅓ cup yellow cornmeal, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter.

Scald 2½ cups of the milk in a double boiler. Add molasses, sugar, cornmeal, spices, salt and butter, and cook over hot water about 20 minutes or until mixture thickens. Add remaining ½ cup milk; turn mixture into a greased casserole, and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) 3 hours.

MINUTE-MAN PRUNES

One pound stewed prunes (30 to a pound), ½ pound barley, ¼ pound peanut butter, sugar to taste, cinnamon to taste, salt to taste.

Remove stone from large stewed prunes. Boil barley until tender. Then rinse in cold water, drain dry. Saute the barley with peanut butter, adding a little salt to taste. When hot fill the barley into the prunes and place on baking sheets. Powder with sugar and cinnamon and bake in moderate oven for five minutes. Arrange on flat serving dishes. Garnish with sliced oranges. Pour over the hot syrup left from the stewed prunes.

Monday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, hot cereal, crumb coffee cake, coffee, milk.

LUNCH: Baked potatoes with whole egg, raw carrot sticks, heated enriched French bread, butter, baked apples, tea, milk.

DINNER: Chili con carne (made with left-over meat), corn bread or corn muffins, bowl of mixed vegetables and green salad, minuteman prunes, coffee, milk.

Hi-School Hi-Lights

VICTORIA

By Peggy Johnson

Honoring Alberta's men of the soil, Vic held a Farmers' Day on Monday. Sporting blue jeans and multi-colored plaid shirts, many boys and girls participated and some found their countryfied clothes so comfortable that they wore them all week. Jeans save wear on those hard-to-get stockings, too.

Our new pennants, in the school colors, red, white and black, caused a flurry of excitement this week, and by now are probably gracing the bedroom walls of more than 140 proud Vic-ites. They are adorned with the school crest, an autograph sheet and the motto "Veritas vos liberabit"—the truth will set you free.

To stimulate the sale of war savings stamps, the students' council has decided to award a pennant each month to the room buying the most stamps. In previous years the [illegible] has started considerable competition and it is hoped it will work as well this year.

Four wins and no losses! Our chests have expanded several inches this week as the result of pride in our basketball teams. The junior boys brought down University High with a score of 28-14. The senior girls won an overwhelming 28-6 against Scona. The senior boys took the Westglen team for a 44-16 win; also in the city men's league the seniors, playing in the semi-finals, defeated the YMCA 47-17.

SCONA

By Sheila Leslie

The eagerly-awaited school crests and pennants arrived this week. The crest looks mighty nice on our [illegible] sweater, and if you're looking for a [illegible] job you don't [illegible] than our happy [illegible]!

[illegible] the auspices of the War Services, our year play was transported to the Camrose Army Training Centre where it was presented [illegible] players. After supper in the [illegible] "troopers" set to work and despite the distractions of the [illegible] weather gave one of [illegible] performances. The [illegible] entertained royally afterwards, in the CWAC H[illegible]

On Friday, some of our "dramatically" inclined presented a Valentine's Lit in the school auditorium.

The boys' senior basketball team was defeated by the team from the Vocational School. Among the veterans were Bob Bijou and Bruce Cormack. Scona boys of two years ago.

Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday UHS vibrates with the resonant strains of Mendelssohn's stirring music for "A Midsummer Night's Dream", the Shakespearean comedy to be presented by Varsity High next month. Conducted by Miss Miriam Bowman, the orchestra is practising diligently, and [illegible] the [illegible] a few interested students [illegible] the tunes from the Wedding March give the [illegible] that it [illegible] The orchestra [illegible] at least, is holding up its end [illegible] production well.

Basketball is still the main source of sport entertainment around UHS. [illegible] junior and senior teams, [illegible] and the girls' junior team have played this week. The senior [illegible] a close game after the [illegible] quarter against Westglen, but were defeated. In an exhibition [illegible] on Tuesday the girls tied [illegible] the Grade 9 of Garneau.

WESTGLEN

By Bill McLeod

Ticket sales for "June Mad" aroused great enthusiasm during the week. Rooms 3, 4 and 5 have far outstripped the other rooms in the ticket selling contest. "June Mad" a comedy in three acts, will be presented next Thursday and Friday, Feb. 22 and 23, by the Dramatics club. The play concerns the antics of a high school girl in her attempts to "acquire" a college slicker.

The first challenge game in bantam hockey was played here Wednesday afternoon, Eastwood furnishing the opposition. After three periods of fast and rough hockey the score stood 4-4. Eastwood led until the last few minutes of play when Westglen staged a rally to tie the score and thereby retained the championship.

The senior boys' basketballers played twice this week on their home floor. On Tuesday the boys bowed to Victoria 44-16. On Wednesday the boys redeemed themselves by winning from Varsity 35-14.

Red, grey and black was much in evidence this week as Westglenners sported their new sweaters. Students were surprised, on Thursday morning, to find the bare walls of the halls decorated with pictures depicting activities of former Westglen students.

EASTWOOD

By Linnea Vikman

Applause and cheers resounded through our auditorium on Friday as Dave McNicoll came forward to receive the public speaking trophy cup. Orators at the annual public speaking battle presented a variety of topics, everything from "Puppy Love in High School" to "Teen-Agers on the Loose". But the Rev. C. F. Pocock, adjudicator, stated that the marks of the speakers were only slightly varied. Other contestants were John Gilmour, Violet Ulasovetz, Linnea Vikman and Irene Diakur. During intermissions music was supplied by Eileen Massie and Patricia Turner. After the Lit, a dance was held, at which "Bert Ward and his Ten Wardens" supplied the music.

A new touch of color has been added to the jackets and sweaters of some of our Eastwoodites in the form of the new crests of the Public Speaking Club. They look very nice indeed!

"Should we or should we not sympathize with them?" is the question Grade Tens and Elevens have been asking themselves in reference to the Grade Twelves who have spent an uncomfortable "exam-writing" week. We decided that we would—just this once!

Guides Meet

The 23rd Edmonton Girl Guide company, meeting in the hall of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Calder, received its first inspection this week from Mrs. A. R. Gillies, district commissioner. Handicrafts being made in preparation for a spring bazaar were on display. After talk on "Thinking Day," two new recruits were enrolled by Mrs. Gillies as guides in the poppy patrol. They were Mary Hughes and Maxine Tillson. Color-bearers for the ceremony were Noella Poullet and Doreen Schill. The meeting closed with "Taps."

(To be colored with paints or crayons. Whenever you come to a word spelled in CAPITAL letters use that color.)

What fun! BROWN-haired Teddy and YELLOW-haired Susie May are having a snow fight! Teddy has a GREEN cap and coat. His trousers are dark BROWN and he wears a RED scarf at his neck. He has long RED (use a bit of BROWN mixed with the RED) rubber boots. His mittens are bright RED.

Susie May is busy making more big white snowballs. She wears BLUE mittens and a BLUE coat. Her cap is ORANGE (use RED and YELLOW mixed with RED) bands and ball on it. She has a pair of warm BLUE leggings to match her coat, and her rubbers are RED like Teddy's boots.

"Here goes one to knock off his RED carroty nose!" cries Teddy.

"And here is one to knock off his tall GREEN hat with the PINK (use RED lightly) feather at the side!" yells Susie May in [illegible]

"Bow wow!" says Jip, opening his big RED mouth. "I will grab the YELLOW broom and send a big one at his RED muffler." Jip wears an ORANGE-colored sweater and is very proud of it.

The snow fort is white, of course, but there are BLUE shadows here and there which are indicated by the shaded lines (use the BLUE very lightly over the shaded lines).

Teddy's house is YELLOW with a BROWN roof, shutters and porch. The roof has lots of white snow on it.

The hedge is GREEN under the blanket of snow; so is the big BROWN-trunked tree.

Both children have PINK cheeks, and the tips of their noses are PINK too, for the air is very frosty indeed. The sky is bright BLUE.

The enemy is made of snow and has an old BROWN coat on.

The lettering of this picture is light PURPLE, and the border extending behind the lettering too is ORANGE-colored.

Hour of Prayer Held In City

Five hundred women, representing every denomination of churches in Edmonton, joined with other Christian women across the world to hold an hour of prayer on Friday. In Edmonton the service was held in All Saints cathedral from 3 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Horace Reid presided in the absence of Mrs. S. F. Tackaberry.

Christian women the world over followed the same program of prayers and meditation, with the exception that services were conducted in different languages.

CALL TO PRAYER

First on the program was the call to prayer, then followed a worship service, thanksgiving, confession, and intercession for the church.

The latter was made up of silent and voluntary prayers conducted by the Salvation Army, Church of Christ, and Beulah Missionary Alliance. Readings and bible messages were also presented.

Mrs. Reid, representing Anglican churches, took the worship; Mrs. F. G. McCoy, Baptist, took the thanksgiving; Mrs. C. Oscroft, Presbyterian, the confession; and Mrs. C. E. Miller, United, took the intercession for the church. Each led the congregation.

CHOIR

An interdenominational choir sang, and organist was Miss Dorothy Teape.

Among the churches represented were: Anglican, Baptist, United, Presbyterian, Salvation Army, Nazarene, Pentecostal, Church of Christ, and Beulah Missionary Alliance.

Mrs. W. F. Barfoot, wife of the Anglican Bishop of Edmonton, gave the closing benediction.

The first prayer service of the day was held among the Christian women of the Fiji Islands. On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. W. C. Woodward, wife of the lieutenant-governor of British Columbia broadcast a message from Government House, Victoria.

On the platform at All Saints Cathedral Friday were: Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Barfoot, Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Oscroft, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Bruce Stainton, Mrs. R. Wilderman, Mrs. E. Mapstone, Mrs. R. Rymer and Mrs. Willard C. Pierce.

Women Hope To Hold Jobs

By ADELAIDE KERR

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Irene Young—wife, mother and aircraft worker—has her own answers to the biggest woman question: Do women factory workers want to keep their jobs or go back home after the war? Her answers contradict a lot of surveys and questionnaires.

"Most women factory workers want to keep their jobs, I believe they don't want to go back to the kitchen,"—so says this aircraft assembly worker in the Rouge River plant of the Ford Motor Co., Detroit, an active member of the Union of Automobile Workers (CIO).

"The UAW recently sent postcard questionnaires to a representative sampling of approximately 350,000 women members, asking them whether they would continue to work outside their homes after the war if a job were available. One hundred per cent. of the widows, 98 per cent. of the single women and 68.7 per cent. of the married women said 'Yes.'"

ACTIVE IN UNION

"I'm very active in the union and I've talked to hundreds of women on this question. The majority tell me the same thing—they want to keep on working if a job is available. Of course, if you break it down and ask them if they want to take a job from a soldier, that's different."

Miss Young—Mrs. Tony Marinovich—made her comment during a visit to New York, where she addressed the women's conference of the National Council of American Soviet Friendship. Asked how she reconciled her comment with the surveys that reported a large percentage of women saying they want to go back home after the war, Miss Young said with a little grin:

"Well, I think a lot of women thought it was proper to say that. Maybe they thought it wouldn't be nice to say they wanted to keep their jobs when there was all this talk about jobs for soldiers. Besides a lot of them thought they meant it. . . . But what they really wanted was two weeks' rest."

WANT INDEPENDENCE

"You might as well get this straight. Women are not in the shop simply for patriotic reasons. They talk patriotism—and they are certainly glad that their work helps patriotically. But they work for the money and for the independence it gives. If they are working only for patriotism, why do they insist on top money?

"I don't like to get up early and come home late and then cook and clean and scrub. But I do it for the things I wouldn't be able to get otherwise."

Dark-eyed, she is the youthful-looking mother of a 21-year-old girl in the WAVES and a 17-year-old son. She says she has always worked hard.

Born in Marion, Ill., the daughter of a miner, she quit school in the [illegible] grade to do housework. At [illegible] she married young Marinovich, [illegible] a coal miner and now employed in the UAW's educational department. [illegible] went to work in a [illegible]. For the last 16 years she has held a triple job as factory worker, mother and housewife.

"Because I have worked we have been able to have a home such a [illegible]," she said. "And [illegible] helped me to do my housework faster."

FAMILY OF CAPT. K. A. C. CLARKE, WITH AMBULANCE UNIT IN HOLLAND—Mrs. K. A. C. Clarke, and her three-year-old son, Garry Kenneth, wife and child of Capt. Clarke, No. 12 Canadian Light Field Ambulance in Holland. Capt. Clarke, MC, enlisted in June, 1940, and went overseas in August, 1942. Before enlistment, he served as an interne at the Royal Alexandra hospital and was graduated from the University of Alberta with his degree in medicine. Early this month, Capt. Clarke was mentioned in dispatches and previously received the Military Cross. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Clarke of Calgary, and Mrs. Clarke is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Skarin of Edmonton. She and Garry live with Mr. and Mrs. Skarin at 11115 89 avenue.

Gay Curtains, Rugs and Plants Adorn Cozy CWAC Home

By HELEN BANNERMAN

OTTAWA, Feb. 17—(CP)—Glebe barracks here now is a cosy home for nearly 300 girls of the Canadian Women's Army Corps and the accent is on the word "cosy."

The big building which was formerly the Ottawa Ladies' College has housed army girls for some time but it wasn't until last summer that anyone thought of covering its painted cement floor or of bringing in gay chintz curtains and bed spreads, books, rugs and potted plants to make the barracks into a home with a warm, friendly atmosphere.

It's all the doing of the unit's commanding officer, Maj. Helen Rankin of Ottawa and Moose Jaw, Sask., who was posted to the barracks last May. She immediately set to work to get the things she knew her girls would like to have around them.

DID WORK HERSELF

She did a lot of the work herself. When she had persuaded a department store to donate a bolt of curtain material she carried it home on crowded street cars under her arm.

Capt. Leslie Inglis of Walkerton, Ont., second in command, and the other officers helped. The girls co-operated enthusiastically.

The result now emerging from behind the last piece of painting equipment is a barracks in name only . . . each room housing [illegible] girls has a comfortable grey plastic floor with rugs on it and a cheerful color scheme different from the other rooms. The girls have a [illegible] and rose recreation hall where they can entertain their boy friends, a [illegible] parlor, a canteen and a games room.

The curtains in the sleeping rooms are chintz, in the sergeants' mess homespun and in the officers' mess brocade. Bedspreads are plain blue, peach, gold or green with a foot-long ruffled valance which makes double decker bunks look quite unmilitary.

NICE PLACE TO WORK

"It's a treat to work here," said Sgt. Cook Alma McDonald of Smiley, Sask., chief of the kitchen, as she looked at her gleaming pots and pans hanging in front of the freshly painted wall.

Cpl. Audrey Radford of Cornwall, Ont., in charge of the mess halls, came out of the pastry kitchen and agreed with her. The small kitchen where the barracks cakes, pies and bread are made has been painted pale yellow with a red trim broken every three or four feet by a kitchen-inspired transfer appliqued on the wall. The window has frilly chintz curtains.

"What I had in mind when I started redecorating," Maj. Rankin said, "was to give the girls everything the college girls who were here before had and more if I could."

Sgt. Jean Hunt of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., speaking for a group of the girls, said she was sure the CWACs had the best of [illegible].

"What we particularly like is being able to bring our boy friends into the recreation hall up to a quarter to one at night," one of the girls added.

Maj. Rankin, wife of Lt. Col. Glen Rankin who is overseas with an artillery unit, defines her job as part mother, part school teacher and part business manager. "When the girls have dates I like them to feel free to bring them here if they want to just as they could to their own homes," she said. Among her officers are Lieuts. Lois Keirnan, Hamilton, Ont.; Eileen Mitchell, Vancouver; Francis Hayward, Kitchener, Ont.; and Lillian Bilderston, Regina, Sask.

Splendid Cough Syrup Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.

To get quick relief from a distressing cough, mix this recipe in your own kitchen. Once tried, you'll say it's your favorite cough medicine, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Anyone can do it. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.)

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat membranes.

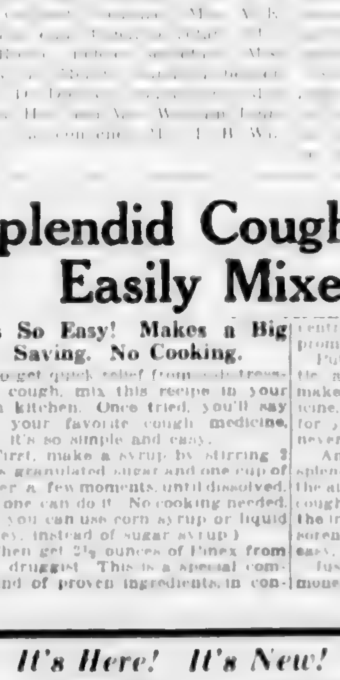

Put the Pinex into a 16-ounce bottle and add your syrup. Thus you make 16 ounces of very efficient medicine, and you get four times as much for your money. It tastes fine and never spoils.

And for quick, satisfying relief, it is splendid. You can feel it penetrating the air passages and taking hold of the cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

It's Here! It's New! It's Different!

Packers Union Delegates Meet

Delegates from all western Canadian locals of the United Packing-house Workers of America were discussing lay-offs affecting an estimated 2,000 workers at plants in the prairie provinces during the last month at a two-day conference which opened Saturday in the Corona hotel.

The conference is not for the purpose of discussing strike action, union officials stated, but concerns wages and policies following negotiation with the three packing-house firms, Burns, Swifts and Canada Packers, regarding working conditions in the western zone.

One official said that it is almost certain that the plants will arrange a 48-hour week, compared with a 50 hour week last year. The union is seeking a 45-hour week it was stated.

It was said the question of wage rates may be referred to the regional war labor board and ultimately to the national war labor board unless there is a joint agreement with the packing house companies to refer directly to the national body.

Those attending the conference include Frank Ross, Chicago, international vice-president, United Packinghouse Workers of America; F. W. Dowling, Toronto, national director for Canada; Adam Borsh, Winnipeg, representative for Manitoba; W. Symington, Vancouver, representative for British Columbia; N. Riches and H. L. Elkings, Saskatoon, representatives for Saskatchewan.

It is reported that delegates are present from 30 packing houses in the Western provinces. Total western membership of the union is 7,000 [illegible] between 1,200 and 1,400 in Edmonton.

Storm Is Brewing Over Relief Set-Up

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—A [illegible]

Within a week UNRRA has drawn sharp criticism with authoritative quarters insistent that the chief difficulty lies in a lack of understanding between UNRRA and the army.

LAFF-A-DAY—[illegible]

EFFICIENT SERVICE REWARDED—At a special investiture held at the Prince of Wales Armory Friday evening, Hon. Ernest Manning, premier of Alberta, presented the Canadian Efficiency Decoration to Maj. G. D. K. Kinnaird, second in command of the 2nd (R) Battalion, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment. Premier Manning, who is one of the unit's officers, made the presentation before officers, NCO's and men of the unit and a number of invited guests. Major Kinnaird was awarded the Efficiency Decoration recently for long and meritorious service in the Canadian Army. His service as a soldier totals 36 years, four of which were spent overseas in the First Great War with the 3rd Canadian Mounted Rifles, and the 49th Battalion, CEF. He was wounded in 1917 and spent four years in hospital recovering from his war injuries. Premier Manning is shown above pinning the medal on Major Kinnaird's tunic.

Canuck Troops Measure Gains Southeast of Kleve in Yards

By DOUGLAS AMARON

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN GERMANY, Feb. 17.—(CP)—First Canadian Army infantry measured their gains southeast of Kleve in yards yesterday as they encountered dogged German resistance along the roads to Calcar, seven miles southeast of Kleve and Udem, five miles southwest of Calcar.

The heaviest fighting on the entire front this ninth day of the army's offensive, which has netted 6,000 prisoners and overrun about 130 square miles of Germany and Holland, centred on this comparatively narrow area. The Germans contested every thrust from well-prepared positions on rising ground which gives them some command of the battlefield.

These battles merging into one are being waged [illegible] from the Calcar [illegible] of Kleve [illegible] where Empire troops [illegible] Canadians were advancing south-east of Bedburg 2½ miles south-east of Kleve.

PICTURE UNCHANGED

[illegible] Moyland [illegible] Reichswald [illegible] under heavy artillery and mortar fire.

The only activity on the Canadian sector north of Kleve where the Dominion's troops overcame difficult terrain and enemy counter-attacks to reach the Rhine on a 20-mile front was movement of soldiers from house to house as flood waters continued their relentless spread over the flat country. Enemy resistance here has ended.

The area southeast of Bedburg [illegible] seemed with the masses of battle yesterday [illegible]

MOVE FORWARD

The [illegible] through forward positions [illegible] 1:30 p.m. [illegible] The Germans reacted immediately with heavy mortar fire [illegible]

[illegible]

The battle still was continuing late yesterday afternoon and troops on the right flank had by then occupied two of their immediate objectives and were advancing on the third. On the left, where Germans were holding out in woods, progress was slower.

[illegible] were reported captured. Jeep ambulances [illegible] mortar fire.

Montreal Trust Company Shows Good Progress

At the fifty-fifth annual general meeting of shareholders of the Montreal Trust Company the directors submitted their report of the company's operations for the year ended December 31, 1944, which in view of general business conditions in the Trust Company field is considered quite satisfactory.

The directors' report indicated that after providing for all expenses of management, accrued interest, taxes and other charges, the company's earnings for the year showed a net profit of $570,450.75. This sum taken with the balance of $765,489.04 carried forward in profit and loss account at the end of 1943 gives a total of $1,335,939.79 available for distribution, and this amount was appropriated as follows:

Reserved for income taxes	189,612.05
Transferred to pension fund	10,000.00
Balance carried forward	880,327.74

The directors' report further stated that notwithstanding war conditions which have brought about important changes in certain departments of the company's business earnings showed an increase of approximately $35,000.

GOOD STANDING

The report also indicated that following the company's usual practice all security investments had been shown at or below market values, and that all mortgage investments, both as to principal and interest, were in good standing.

The estates, trusts and agency departments had again been exceptionally active and that assets under administration in these departments showed a net increase of approximately $14,000,000.

F. G. Donaldson, president and general manager, in addressing the meeting stated that he thought the shareholders could take the directors' report for the year as being very gratifying in the light of war time conditions which while being favorable to certain departments of the business adversely affected others.

EXERCISE CARE

Mr. Donaldson felt that he should again point out to the shareholders and to the public generally as he has on [illegible] the existing heavy taxation imposed on estates both by the federal and provincial governments and the issue from time to time of new and complicated government regulations that everyone desiring to dispose of property by will or trust should make sure that all necessary deeds and documents are prepared with the greatest care and reviewed from time to time so that [illegible] be made if necessary. He stated that it is the company's experience in the administration of estates that too little attention is given these matters which often leads to estates becoming involved in difficulties or even serious loss. Moreover, only an executor or trustee having wide experience in these matters should be appointed to administer an estate and that a corporate executor and trustee made an ideal administrator.

He stated that much unwise and burdensome taxation had been imposed by our various governments on individuals, corporations and estates causing in some instances double and even multiple taxation and that it had been felt for a long time that revision of these imposts should be made. However some improvement has recently been achieved by certain reciprocal arrangements agreed to by the taxing authorities and also that a Royal Commission had been appointed by the federal government to inquire into some of the features of this unfair taxation. It is hoped that further relief will be granted as a result of this commission's recommendations.

In closing his remarks Mr. Donaldson thanked the officers and staff for their efficient and loyal services during the year and congratulated them on the results achieved.

Minute Make-Ups

For that starry-eyed look rest your eyes! Cover them with a pat of cotton saturated with eye lotion or a mild skin freshener. Just drift and dream for a few minutes. Then clever makeup and clever "making with the eyes" to capture his heart!

Paving Projects Are Authorized By City Council

plan. They said it provided a roadway that would draw vehicular traffic from the High Level bridge and other congested traffic routes.

ADDITIONAL ITEMS

Other items in the program include the paving of 109 street from 107 avenue to Kingsway, and the paving of 111 avenue from 103 street to 109 street.

It is proposed also to asphalt surface existing paving on Rowland road from 90 street to 95 street, and to put down new paving from the Dawson bridge to 90 street. It is proposed also to widen the bottleneck on Strathcona road between 98 avenue and Connors road, and to put in new paving on 102A avenue between 97 and 99 streets, and on 103 avenue from 97 to 99 streets.

A new street will be opened on 108 avenue from 101 street to 97 street, the contract calling for the construction of the intersections of this avenue.

Army Railway Engineer Discovers France Pretty But Battered Place

BACK TO CANADA [illegible] L. MacDonnell of Longueuil, shown above, was among 10 members of the RCAF City of Vancouver squadron who were repatriated to Canada recently. Other Albertans in the same batch of "returnees" included LAC J. A. Dutman of Wetaskiwin [illegible] the squadron's ground crew.

BASHAW: Harry E. Trout donned a khaki uniform and became known as Spr. Trout, H. E., railroad engineer driver. As such he piloted any number of railway vehicles, some of them good, others pretty rugged throughout France, until he was finally injured while operating a turntable near Rouen, after which he was hospitalized and subsequently returned to Canada. He is now visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Trout of Bashaw.

Lacombe's Mayor Booster For Future of District and West

LACOMBE: Years spent in forming a tough cayuse over the prairies of Southern Alberta probably had a lot to do with developing the keen admiration for Western Canada that is part and parcel of Mayor Tom Wilkes. Born in Buckinghamshire, England, the son of Thomas Wilkes and Hannah Gadsden Wilkes, the mayor received his education at Dunmore College, Bletchley, Eng. He began his career in the English farming industry, and came to Canada in 1911.

In the First Great War he served with the 2nd Battalion and later the Canadian Corps Cavalry, and the Canadian Light Horse. He was married at Swift Current, Sask., to Miss Ida Waller. Before moving to the Lacombe district he rode the range in Southern Alberta and engaged in the lumber business and farming at Brooks. He came to Lacombe in 1927, and has been actively engaged in the lumber business for 18 years.

USES OF THE RE-ESTABLISHMENT CREDIT

In the first advertisement in this series it was explained that the re-establishment credit is a grant to which veterans are eligible in an amount equal to the basic War Service Gratuity—that is $7.50 for each thirty days' service in the Western Hemisphere and $15.00 for each thirty days' service overseas. It was pointed out that it is an alternative to training and educational grants and to land settlement benefits under the Veterans' Land Act, and that it may be used at any time within ten years of discharge for certain purposes looking to re-establishment in Canada only. This advertisement is to explain these purposes.

Coroner's Jury Declares Death Was Accidental

A coroner's jury, inquiring Friday afternoon into the death of J. J. Zender, Canadian National Railways assistant yardmaster in Edmonton, who died as a result of injuries received when struck by a railroad tank-car Feb. 7, found that death was purely accidental. Cause of death was multiple injuries to the chest and spine, with severe shock.

Dr. John W. Musgrave told the jury that in performing an autopsy he found that Mr. Zender had received "multiple severe injuries," which included a lacerated wound on the left side of the head, a smashed elbow bone in the right arm, fractures at the top and bottom of the spine, many fractures of the ribs, some of which had punctured the left lung.

SWITCHING CARS

J. H. Woodward, switch foreman said that a number of cars were being switched, and as one move ment was being completed, he saw the flicker of a lantern as it fell to the ground. Investigating, he found the assistant yardmaster lying on the ground about 17 feet from the main line switch.

Stopping further train movements, he ordered a doctor and ambulance and then examined the car that had struck a man, for marks. The tankcar had been running "loose" at the time of the accident, he said.

G. W. Heatherington, switchman, stated he had spoken to Mr. Zender just before they started walking in different directions. Then he heard the previous witness shout the words, "Joe has been struck. Get a doctor and call an ambulance." The tankcar was painted black and it was also a dark night, the witness concluded.

Members of the jury were John Norrington, foreman; William Hogan, R. J. Turner, J. C. F. Kilgour, F. W. Armstrong, and John Day. Dr. E. A. Braithwaite acted as coroner, presided over by Dr. William McDonald, coroner, who conducted the inquiry.

Service Clubs Plan to Mark Anniversaries

TO MARK FOUNDING

Officers who will be installed at the banquet are James Jangen, president; Reg Young, secretary; Vernon Hayward, treasurer; Tom Swanson, editor, and director, James Walker, Eric Lansdowne, Ted Morrison and P. J. Tingle. Cameron Carl Venn is past president.

JOINT MEETING

Bidu Sayao Scores Triumph With Brilliant, Colorful Performance

Bidu Sayao, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Association, in a display of elegant and exquisite vocalism won an overwhelming triumph from an appreciative capacity audience at the Empire theatre on Friday night when she appeared in the Celebrity Series of concerts sponsored by the Women's Musical Club. So great was the appeal of the petite Brazilian prima donna that no fewer than nine encores were required before she signalled her accompanist to play God Save the King.

FINE APPROACH

She proved conclusively that she possessed the tonal texture necessary for such extended and florid arias as "Ah fors e lui" and "Sempre libera" from Verdi's "La Traviata." This was sung with unusual appreciation of contrast, and an expressiveness rarely encountered. There was apparent most commendable accuracy, flexibility and dramatic intensity. One would have enjoyed more of the arias for the singing of which she is justly celebrated.

THE ENCORES

Encores were The Little Butterfly, based on a Chopin Etude; Gavotte from Massenet's "Manon"; Mozart Antometti's A Song of Summertime, Turn Ye to Me and the Paris Counting Song.

Miss Chandler provided sympathetic and expertly played accompaniments. The audience showed its appreciation of the concert with applause which led him to share the applause on several occasions.

2-War Veteran Finds Problems Less Difficult

In 1920 he joined the Edmonton Regiment militia unit, now the Second Reserve Bn., of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, and went on active service with the First Bn. of the unit in September of 1939. He commanded a company with the rank of major.

"It is the physical readjustment that I find the hardest. In the army one leads a very active life. I was accustomed to marching as far as 30 miles in a single day. Now I puff when I run for a street car."

HAVE SEEN EXCITEMENT

"Don't expect too much is the first advice I would give a young fellow leaving the service. It's fine to read and hear of all the benefits available to the fellow leaving the service but I don't think the general public realizes fully that civilians will have to make some sacrifice on behalf of the returning servicemen. Everyone is strong for rehabilitation until it has a personal effect."

Men leaving the service should realize at once that they have a psychological struggle ahead. It's just a hard struggle, the physical type of the battlefield. If you make a mistake on the civilian front you may have to pay for it all the rest of your life. It too is a hard struggle, the teacher-soldier pointed out.

GETS SURPRISE

One thing that surprised him on his return to teaching is what he terms the appalling lack of teaching media as compared to that available in the army educational services.

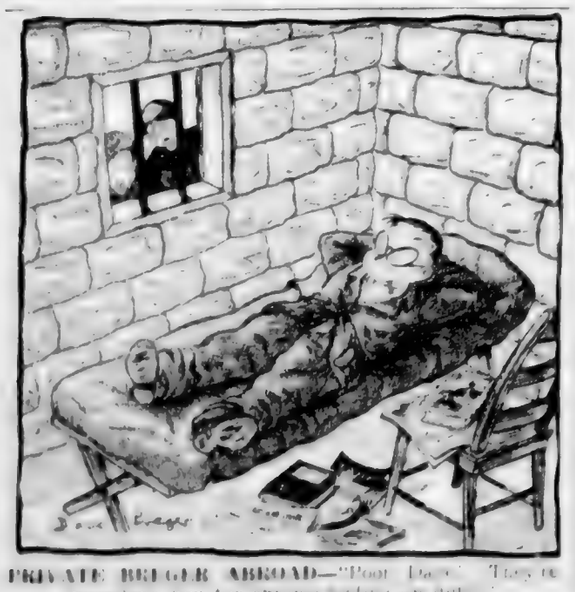

"Most text books are hard out of date as are maps," he observed.

Another change has been the pupils. Many of the youngsters of his 1939 classroom are now serving their king and country. Some have made the supreme sacrifice.

A PROMISE

NEXT to eating, the Dunce likes to ride. It doesn't make any difference what he rides just as long as it moves. He is constantly coaxing the birds to take him for flights through the air. He rides chipmunks, rabbits and cats, and one day he negged an old hen into taking him and Gogo for a ride around her coop.

The Dunce and Gogo had stopped to talk to the hen, and the Dunce had begged a ride. The hen agreed to give the two Teenie Weenies a ride if they would bring her a drink, for her water pan was empty. The Dunce agreed to produce the drink and the two Teenie Weenies climbed up the wire fence at the side of the coop and dropped onto the hen's back. The chicken took them around her coop a number of times. When the ride was finished, the Dunce and Gogo began carrying water in a thimble to which rope handles had been fastened.

Watering the hen was a very slow and tiresome task for the two Teenie Weenies, because the water had to be brought from a creek quite a long way from the coop, and it took the hen a long time to empty even as small a vessel as a thimble. The hen would put her head through the wire, dip her beak into the thimble, and then she would hold her head as high as she could and let a few drops trickle down her throat. Chickens are very slow drinkers, and the Dunce soon became impatient. After he and Gogo had brought three thimblefuls from the creek, the lazy Dunce decided she had had enough. The hen shook her head and made the Teenie Weenies understand that she was still thirsty.

"Shucks!" shouted the Dunce. "You've had enough water to give me three baths and that's plenty."

Gogo argued that they ought to give the hen all the water she could drink.

"We didn't promise to give her a bath, did we?" argued the Dunce. "Three thimblefuls is a lot."

Several of the Teenie Weenies had gathered around, for they always enjoyed the Dunce's arguments. The General told the Dunce that if he had made a promise he must keep his word.

"Say! This is hard work," growled the Dunce "I'm sweatin'. Do you want us to drown this chicken?"

"You'll keep on sweating until you have given this hen all the water she wants," warned the General. "Teenie Weenies keep their promises."
